Biggest Soviet Air Assault of the War Wrecks Nazi Trains

Eleven Key Rail Centres Blasted In Second Day of Strong Attacks

LONDON, May 10 (CP).—Russian planes today carried their biggest aerial offensive of the war into the second day by blasting eleven more key rail centres behind the Nazi lines, and Moscow announced that anti-aircraft defences shot down forty-three of 200 German planes which attempted an assault on the Rostov-Bataisk gateway to the Caucasus.

Amplifying the midnight communique, which announced strong aerial blows against enemy concentrations and fortifications, the Moscow radio broadcast the details of day-long storm of assaults wrecking railway stations and troop-laden trains and trucks behind virtually the entire German front.

The broadcast, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said the large-scale German air raids were largely dispersed short of their Rostov-Bataisk targets, but that some isolated craft broke through and caused some damage.

The Russians said only seven of their intercepting planes were lost in the battles, which resulted in the downing of forty-three enemy craft.

BOTH SIDES TAKE TO AIR

Both sides apparently are taking to the air in force, attempting to smash each other's concentrations and mass troop movements in an effort to get in the first blows of an imminent Summer campaign—and the Red Air Force is exploiting its newly-won ascendancy on the Eastern Front to the utmost.

Russian artillery also kept up the heavy pounding of German troops in the Kuban area northeast of Novorossisk today after Soviet forces had broken through the outer defences of that vital Black Sea port.

In the vicinity of Lisichansk, about 120 miles southeast of Kharkov, two battalions of German infantry, supported by tanks, attacked a Russian position but were hurled back by a counter-attack, the communique said. It added that nine German tanks were damaged and about 300 enemy troops killed.

Four German counter-attacks were repulsed in another sector, it was said.

On the Volkhov front, Russian artillery shelled a German artillery position and destroyed a large portion of the battery.

ATTACKS FOLLOW SAME PATTERN

The new Russian air attacks followed the same destructive pattern of the previous day's raids on more

Suggests Two Swap Positions

Giraud Makes Offer Of Equal Powers

ALGIERS, May 10 (AP).—Gen. Henri Giraud has offered Gen. Charles de Gaulle a "swap arrangement" under which the two leaders would alternate as chief of the French forces fighting with the United Nations, it was disclosed tonight.

Giraud has insisted, however, that this should be a temporary setup with all concerned ready to turn over their power to a provisional government to be chosen by the French people as soon as France is liberated.

The offer was embodied in an appendix to Giraud's reply to De Gaulle's proposals made available to the Associated Press.

Under the scheme, two big jobs were suggested for the temporary setup—president of a French council and president of a committee charged with executing the council's orders. Giraud suggested that De Gaulle and himself take turns at both jobs, switching from time to time.

"We will fulfill in turn the role of the presidency of the meetings of the committee and of the council," Giraud said. "This does not mean a duumvirate. Quite the contrary.

"Our responsibilities would be based on the collective responsibility of the council and the committee. We would sign all ordinances jointly.

PARTICIPATE ON SAME GRADE

"We would participate on the same grade as the other members in all deliberations and decisions which the committee or the council would be called upon to take."

To De Gaulle's objection that Giraud is holding both the military and civil chieftancy contrary to the French constitution, the French High Commissioner for North Africa replied that the circumstances of the moment demanded that he do so. Giraud argued that this makes no difference since he proposes to turn over all his powers to a provisional French government when it is formed after the Axis is driven from France.

Giraud conceded that the present procedure would be illegal in normal times, but maintained that these are not normal times.

Giraud said that "under the present exceptional circumstances, in my opinion, extraordinary measures embodying the participation of the commander-in-chief in the council meetings are necessary."

He added that when the Allied armies enter France the French Army will have the responsibility of maintaining order and will take over the authority of the French prefects of police.

Foster Given New Western Defence Post

Brigadier Is Named Special Commissioner

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—Brig. W. W. Foster, of Vancouver, has been appointed "special commissioner for defence projects in Northwest Canada," Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today in the House of Commons.

With headquarters probably in Edmonton, he will be responsible for co-ordinating all Governmental activities concerned with defence projects and maintaining co-operation with all agencies of the United States Government.

One of the oldest of the senior officers now on active service with the Canadian Army, Brig. Foster is sixty-six and has had a distinguished military and civil career.

CONCERNED WITH WESTERN DEFENCES

Mr. King recalled that the Canada-United States Defence Board has been concerned with West Coast defences since its establishment in 1940. On its recommendation, projects of vital importance to the two nations had been undertaken. Canada built a chain of airfields from Northern Alberta to Alaska. The United States built the Alaska Highway.

"By joint arrangement between Canada and the United States, other transport and communication facilities are being constructed," he said. "In conjunction with these projects natural resources of strategic significance are being developed."

While plans for all these were approved in Washington and Ottawa, there was a growing volume of day-to-day business arising locally between Canadian and United States agencies. There was need for a representation "of high standing who can exercise a general

Prisoners Say Von Arnim Is In Africa Yet

WITH UNITED STATES FORCES IN TUNISIA, May 10 (AP).—Captured German officers insisted today that Col.-Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim still is in Africa and in charge of the shattered Axis forces here, but they acknowledged that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel left about two months ago because of illness.

"Von Arnim is somewhere in Tunisia," said Maj.-Gen. Willibald Borowietz, commander of the 15th German Armored Division. "Rommel has been ill in Germany a long time—at least two months."

For many weeks Rommel has been reported by various sources to be somewhere in Europe, having left his Africa Corps and other Axis troops under his command in charge of Von Arnim. More recent reports indicated that Von Arnim also had been flown out of Tunisia.

Allied Tactics Worry Nazis

That the Nazis view with alarm the "train-busting" tactics of the Allies is attested to by these photographs, received from Europe via neutral sources. Trying to halt the extensive knocking out of locomotives and hard-to-replace rolling stock, the Nazis have fitted out "flak trains," the entire train being turned into a rolling arsenal of anti-aircraft weapons.

Cardin Criticized for Speech in Ottawa House

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—After sharp debate, in which Mrs. Dorise W. Nielsen (Unity, North Battleford) said Hon. P. J. A. Cardin (Liberal, Richelieu-Vercheres) last week had made "a subversive speech of the first order," the $1,000,000,000 mutual aid bill received second reading in the House of Commons tonight.

The House rejected two amendments to the motion to give second reading. One, moved by J. S. Roy (Independent, Gaspe) and asking that the bill be not given second reading, was rejected by a vote of 135 to 10.

The second, moved by Liguori Lacombe (Laval-Two Mountains) and urging the bill be given a six months' hoist, was defeated by 127 votes to 10.

In each case, ten French-Canadian members supported the amendment, while the Progressive Conservative, C.C.F. and New Democracy parties voted solidly with the Liberal majority.

THINKS SPEECH COMFORT TO ENEMY

Mrs. Nielsen, speaking in support of the bill, said that Mr. Cardin's speech of last week must have given comfort to the enemy. He had complained of the load of taxes borne in Canada.

Four Killed, Many Hurt By Aircraft

Fails to Leave Ground at Base

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 10 (AP).—Four persons were killed and sixty-three injured today when an army experimental plane crashed and burst into flames in the recruit hut area of the United States Marine Corps base.

The dead included the pilot of the plane, R. A. McMakin, and three marines.

Seven civilian employees of Consolidated Vulett Aircraft Corporation were aboard the plane, and all but McMakin, manager of Consolidated's flight department, were rescued from the flaming craft and taken to hospital.

Witnesses at Lindbergh Field said the plane was unable to get into the air after a run and smashed through the marine base into a group of temporary buildings and burst into flames.

Assistant Fire Chief George Courser said that the plane cut a swath of about 800 feet through an area of mess halls and small barracks—each of the latter containing eight to twelve men.

"The plane looked as though a cyclone struck it," Course said.

Formerly with United Airlines, McMakin, who was piloting the ship, had extensive ocean flying experience. He recently returned from a tour of the South Pacific on which he piloted two army officers. He was in charge of Consolidated's flight department.

Fifty-seven of the sixty-three injured were marines and six were crew members of the plane.

The navy reported that ten of the marines were seriously hurt.

Call for Japanese For Farm Labor

VANCOUVER, May 10 (CP).—Alberta sugar beet farmers are calling for more British Columbia Japanese as farm labor, George Collins general supervisor of the British Columbia Security Commission said today on his return from a week's inspection tour in Alberta.

Approximity 3,000 Japanese from this province are starting their second year in the sugar beet industry around Lethbridge, Collins said there would be no mass movement of Japanese to meet the demands, but that "a steady trickle" would be maintained, to other parts of Canada as well as Alberta.

FIVE DIE IN CRASH

PORTLAND, Ore., May 10 (AP).—The crew of five was killed today in the crash of a United States Army medium bomber on a routine flight near Sprague, Wash., the Portland air base said tonight. The plane crashed shortly after taking off from Geiger Field, Spokane, to return to Portland, the announcement said.

BULLETIN

NEW SOVIET LANDINGS

LONDON, May 11 (Tuesday) (CP).—The German-controlled Paris radio reported today that seaborne Russian troops had made large-scale landings in the Novorossisk area in the Western Caucasus, where the Nazis are battling to hold a bridgehead under Soviet frontal attacks.

The broadcast was recorded by The Associated Press.

Experimental Plane Crashes In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 10 (AP).—An experimental troop-carrying and cargo plane built at the Louisville Curtiss-Wright Corporation factory carried three civilian crewmen to death late today when it crashed ten miles from here.

Lt.-Col. J. S. Dexter, director of production for the army at the plant, said "apparently the plane fell to pieces in the air but we have no details."

It had a wing spread of 108 feet. Its composition was 65 per cent wood.

"Freeze" Order On Portions of Potato Stocks

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—To meet existing potato shortages, the Prices Board tonight announced a temporary freeze of parts of the potato stocks in the hands of large wholesalers and the channelling of all shipments from the Maritimes through a central agency in Montreal to centres of greatest shortages.

Officials said further controls on retail sales were being planned and that sales of certified seed potatoes would be regulated to ensure their use as seed and not for table use.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1943, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, May 10.—The Allied triumph in Tunisia is overwhelming, says The Times editorially, analyzing the enormous gains already achieved and the likelihood of more successes to follow.

General Alexander's offensive clearly took the Axis forces unawares, and the weight of the blow delivered against Tunis broke up the Nazi defences irreparably. Now there is only a grim choice between total surrender and an attempt at a Dunkerque evacuation, which the British Navy and air force stand ready to foil.

The tremendous victory winds up a six months' campaign delayed, owing to bad communications, bad weather and quick reinforcements for the Germans by air from Sicily at critical periods.

Excellent generalship, good staff work and admirable co-operation between ground troops and aircraft contributed to the spectacular defeat, which the enemy's lavish use of transport airplanes could not avert.

According to reliable reports from Ankara both Rommel and Von Arnim left Tunisia some time ago, and the Italian General Messe is now in command. The number of prisoners taken continue to increase beyond 50,000.

The part the Eighth Army played, says The Times' correspondent accredited to it, was mainly to hold great numbers of Germans north of Enfidaville, while a part of the force was sent to share in the Tunis triumph with the First Army.

It was this brilliant manoeuvre which, combined with terrific blows by tanks and aircraft, shattered Axis resistance. Once armored cars entered the capital the Germans began surrendering in hundreds. Their fighting spirit had evaporated.

The most significant fact has been the Luftwaffe's withdrawal from the battle altogether in face of intense Allied attacks, which now extend over the Sicilian channel.

According to The Times' military correspondent there are now large pockets of enemy troops scattered along the coast.

The Tunisian victory has caused consternation among all Axis puppets.

Hungarian Admiral Horthy has refused to allow Magyar troops to return to the Russian front.

The Bulgars are hardly held down by King Boris' terrorism.

Rumanian leaders are in a panic.

And shrewd Turkish observers say Italy is already at the breaking point and quick invasion by the Allies

Two Feet of Snow Fall In Alberta

BLAIRMORE, Alta., May 10 (CP).—Secondary roads leading from Blairmore were being cleared by snowploughs today of more than two feet of snow, most of which fell Sunday in one of the worst May snow storms in the history of the town.

Townspeople were watching thermometers today as they remembered that only a year ago high waters had caused a severe flood. There were fears that a sudden rain might melt the snow on the mountains quickly and cause a similar occurrence.

Coal production in Blairmore suffered slightly when trucks transporting coal from mine "tipples" were held up. The loss in production was not serious, however. The main road from Blairmore was reported passable late tonight.

CHIANG CONGRATULATES

CHUNGKING, May 10 (AP).—Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek today congratulated Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt on the Allied victory in Tunisia.

Nazi Troops in Desperate But Doomed Battle to Hold Escape Corridor in Tunisia

Rocky Fortress of Cap Bon Besieged by Land, Air and Sea

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 10 (AP).—German troops battled in desperate but doomed struggle today to hold open an escape corridor at the neck of Cap Bon Peninsula for Axis forces still fighting on a narrowing arc twenty-five miles to the southwest.

They fought from fuel-less tanks dug in as pillboxes, spending their blood and dwindling supplies of artillery shells to buy a few hours' time for more Axis remnants to join the 80,000 troops estimated to have poured onto the peninsula.

But Cap Bon was itself a rocky fortress besieged from land, sea and air, with planes and ships barring the escape by water to Sicily.

Dozens of small boats loaded with fleeing troops were being sunk and their occupants drowned.

The most the Germans can hope to achieve in this grim, final flareup of fighting is a slight delay in the obliteration of the Axis from Africa.

Their situation on Cap Bon permits no effective offensive action in Africa or the Mediterranean.

The American Second Corps drive of last week, which began with the cracking of the difficult mountain defences of strategic Mateur, and ended with the unconditional surrender of the 25,000 Germans and Italians and six generals, will go down as one of the most brilliant successes in the history of the United States Army.

ALL DIVISIONAL RANK OR HIGHER

The American Command demanded and obtained the surrender from Maj.-Gen. Krause, artillery commander of the German Africa Corps. The five other generals all were of divisional rank or higher.

Announcement of the capitulation followed disclosure yesterday that at least 50,000 Axis prisoners had been taken since last Friday.

However, it seemed clear that there had been some overlapping of the figures. The Allied-controlled Algiers radio reported that the aggregate Axis losses were 84,000 prisoners and 42,000 killed or wounded, along with 330 tanks, 500 guns and 4,000 trucks.

The Nazi-operated Paris radio, for the first time admitting the Axis catastrophe, broadcast: "The battle for Tunisia is nearing an end."

While sharp fighting continued below Cap Bon Peninsula, where British armored columns were driving forward to seal the entrance, the position of these and Axis forces still fighting in Tunisia in a frantic attempt to hold open the peninsula for a little longer was officially described as "worse than desperate."

Fighting ceased in the Bizerte area to the northwest, with 25,000 enemy troops and six generals howing in unconditional surrender to American troops there.

The British Sixth Armored Divi-

Enemy War Camp Gasps At Defeat

Spanish Leader Franco Makes Plea for Peace

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—The third anniversary of the Nazi invasion of the Low Countries today found the Axis war camp apparently startled by the completeness of the Tunisian collapse.

Hitler grimly recited the hardships of war, and Mussolini already had cried for help.

With their hour of conquest gone and the initiative in the hands of Allied forces clearing the way for new and powerful blows, the Axis leaders heard the non-belligerent Spanish leader, Gen. Francisco Franco, declare from the sidelines that the war had reached a deadlock with neither side able to win.

Thus, in the second Spanish peace feeler in a month, Franco asserted that "it is senseless to delay the peace."

REALIZES AXIS FRIENDS DOOMED

Unofficial comment in London, where the Cap Bon death trap is regarded as bearing out the Casablanca keynote of "unconditional surrender" for the Axis, treated the Franco speech as an indication that the Spanish leader now realizes that his Axis friends cannot win.

Hitler, appealing to his people for German Red Cross contributions, declared the past Winter "involved the heaviest suffering and hardest burdens for our soldiers."

He referred particularly to the Russian front and avoided any direct mention of his ill-fated African campaign which, sources here indicated, has cost the Axis more than 750,000 troops since the reconquest of Ethiopia.

As tension mounted to a new peak in the Lowlands, resulting in a German declaration of martial law in all of Holland, Queen Wilhelmina, Prince Bernhard and Premier Pieter S. Gerbrandy broadcast messages of hope for speedy liberation to their Netherlands homeland.

URGES COMPLETELY ORGANIZED HELP

In a later broadcast to the United States, Queen Wilhelmina urged the creation of a "complete, adequate United Nations organization" to help relieve Nazi-occupied nations.

The appointment of Herbert H. Lehman as United States director of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation,

British Falling Back in Burma

NEW DELHI, May 10 (CP).—British troops today were reported falling back steadily toward the Burma-India frontier as the Japanese advanced with infiltration tactics and gained all the east side of the Mayu Peninsula on the Bay of Bengal.

Reports suggested the Japanese had filtered through what had been considered strong defensive positions at the base of the peninsula, while it was indicated the British-Indian forces had fallen back forty miles during the last five weeks, despite their possession of air superiority.

It was considered possible that new British positions may be established partly on the Indian side of the Burma frontier, but it was not considered that the Japanese success imperilled the defence of India in any way, as neither Maungdaw nor Buthedaung, the two main points overrun by the Japanese, offer facilities for large-scale operations.

New Command

Air Vice-Marshal George A. Johnson, M.C., air officer commanding Eastern Air Command, R.C.A.F., who has become air officer commander-in-chief as a result of the enlargement of his responsibilities to include operational control of all aerial anti-submarine activities in the new Canadian Northwest Atlantic Command. Air Vice-Marshal Johnson will have direction of the operations of United States aircraft based in Newfoundland and engaged in anti-submarine warfare as well as of all operations of the R.C.A.F. on Canada's east coast.

Goering and Himmler to Defend Italy

LONDON, May 11 (Tuesday) (CP).—A Moscow broadcast recorded here today by the Soviet monitor said that Field Marshal Hermann Goering and Heinrich Himmler, head of the Nazi secret police, are going to Rome to take over the defence of Italy.

The broadcast credited a Russian news agency dispatch from Berne, Switzerland.

The dispatch said that reorganization of the Italian army, inspection of the air force, airdromes, and naval bases, and fortifications have been entrusted to Goering, while Himmler will try to bring about "stabilization of the internal front" through a drastic purge of the armed forces, state institutions, corporations and the Fascist party.

The Russian news agency said the two Nazis would leave shortly to confer with Mussolini and would remain for a long time to direct "emergency measures."

An earlier Moscow broadcast last night heard by Reuter's News Agency said Goering already was in Rome.

May Make Deal For Novikoff

CHICAGO, May 11 (Tuesday) (AP).—Manager Jim Wilson, of Chicago Cubs, is eager to make a deal for Lou Novikoff if he can get an outfielder who bats right-handed, The Chicago Tribune said today.

Novikoff, who has held out fifty-one days for a $10,000 contract, was placed on the ineligible list last week by Ford Frick, president of the National League, and would have to be reinstated before donning a uniform again.

Japanese Fail To Gain Foothold

CHUNGKING, May 10 (AP).—Fresh Japanese attempts to gain a foothold on the south shore of Lake Tungting, possibly to make a fourth attempt to capture Changsha, failed, the Chinese High Command said today in a communique.

The lake is in North Hunan Province, of which Changsha is the capital.

The Chinese reported they attacked enemy positions southeast of the Burma Road town of Lungling on April 29 and the next day reoccupied three towns, killing 200 Japanese.

Island Faces Big Task to Reach Quotas

Halifax Still Leads In Loan Contest

Intensified efforts of organizers of the Fourth Victory Loan for the last week of the campaign not yet having had time to take effect, Greater Victoria was still more $1,500,000 behind Greater Halifax yesterday in the inter-community contest between the two cities. The standing is:

Greater Halifax, $6,200,450; Greater Victoria, $4,682,300.

Vancouver Island as a whole still found itself faced with the task of raising $3,532,300 to attain its total quota of $9,500,000, some districts, notably Cowichan, still having to double their collections to date.

Feature of the day in Victoria yesterday was the effort of the Gyro Club, whose members at the conclusion of their weekly luncheon paraded down Government Street through downtown Victoria to the Victory Loan stand on View Street wearing sandwich boards inscribed: "Buy Bonds and Beat Halifax—Victory for Victoria."

At the View Street stand a musical programme was provided, while Capt. H. R. Lumby made a Victory Loan appeal.

Today the Kiwanis Club will continue the service clubs' contribution to the loan campaign.

Figures for Vancouver Island by districts stood Monday as follows:

	Subscribed to date	Total quota	Still to be collected
Victoria	$2,806,000	$4,100,000	$1,294,400
Saanich	840,800	1,075,000	434,200
Oak Bay	641,550	1,105,000	463,450

Inside Europe Now

INSIDE Europe now there is only one voice, the German army; and one police, the Gestapo. Together, they hold in subjection 220,000,000 men, women and children living in conquered lands. They rule by whip, machine gun and bayonet; and from that there is no appeal. Around Germany vast areas of neighboring lands have been totally depopulated, stripped of food, pillaged of everything that could support life. People, by the hundred of thousand, are driven as slaves to work in factories, to till fields, to support a "master race." A "master race" of savages. Human abattoirs have been set up to dispose of those who prove troublesome, or merely inconvenient. Whole towns are transported on a bully's whim. Death has become a boon to millions in subject lands. The grim story is working out towards its grimmest end. We who have kept our freedom, and fight for it, know that. It is our privilege to volunteer; some for the fight, others for the factories, all to help where we can. Victory bonds will help directly, and now. Bonds will back our attack, and hasten the day when we force the unconditional surrender of our foes. On that day will come the liberation of the world.

Governor-General Visits West Coast Air Station

Presents Medals to Officers for Action With United States in Defending Alaska

THE Earl of Athlone, Canada's Governor-General and distinguished soldier, paid tribute to another branch of the service yesterday afternoon when he made a lengthy visit to a West Coast air station to review men and women of the R.C.A.F.

His Excellency and Her Royal Highness, Princess Alice, were met on their arrival at the station by Air Vice-Marshal L. F. Stevenson, air officer commanding Western Air Command, and Air Commodore E. L. MacLeod, who escorted the viceregal party on the tour of the air base.

The Governor-General showed keen interest in the men of the station. While inspecting the guard of honor drawn up to mark his arrival, he chatted briefly with many of the airmen, asking them of their homes, and duties in the service. Following his inspection, he took the salute as the guard marched past, led by the R.C.A.F. band of Vancouver.

While the Earl of Athlone went on to examine equipment and training facilities at the station, Princess Alice, wearing the trim uniform of her rank as honorary air commandant, R.C.A.F. (W.D.), inspected a guard of the Women's Division, commanded by Section Officer E. A. McLaren, of Ancaster, Ont.

MADE VISIT TO STATION HOSPITAL

She also visited the station hospital, where she was shown through the wards by the senior medical officer, Wing Commander W. D. Marshall, and chatted informally with the patients and nursing sisters.

The two sections of the viceregal party then met for the most stirring event of the afternoon—the presentation of medals to two officers of the station who had been unable to attend the recent investiture at Ottawa.

With station personnel drawn up in a hollow square before the reviewing stand, Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson called upon Group Captain G. R. McGregor, D.F.C., of Montreal, who was presented by His Excellency with the insignia of the Order of the British Empire for, according to the citation, "meritorious service with regard to successful protection of the Alaskan area, and liaison with the forces of the United States of America."

Squadron Leader K. A. Boomer, Ottawa, then stepped forward to receive the Distinguished Flying Cross for gallantry and determination displayed on coastal patrol duties in action against the enemy.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS ATTEND CEREMONY

The party attending the ceremony included Sir Shuldham Redfern, private secretary to the Governor-General, Capt. Alan Leveson-Gower, A.D.C.; Miss Vera Grenfell, lady-in-waiting to Her Royal Highness; Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson, Air Commodore MacLeod, and staff officers of the station; and Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Boomer, whose husbands were decorated.

Wearing the uniform of his rank of major-general, with the ribbons of decorations won on active service in Matabeleland, South Africa, and during the Great War, His Excellency walked through the ranks of men drawn up for the investiture, speaking to many as he passed.

The ceremony over, the unit broke from the hollow square to march smartly past the Governor-General, who took the salute. As each unit passed the stand, the order of "eyes right" coincided with the traditional sharp step of the air forces.

The viceregal party was then joined by its long escort of police, motorcyclists, and staff cars for further inspection of the base, followed by the serving of refreshments at the officers' mess.

Today His Excellency will visit Fort Macaulay for a demonstration of anti-aircraft fire at 10:45 a.m., and at 3:30 p.m. will visit R.C.N. College at Royal Roads.

Between 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. Princess Alice will visit the Three Services Canteen, Prince Robert House, and the Hostess House, will meet at noon at Government House with Girl Guide Commissioners and heads of women's auxiliaries to the forces, and at 3:30 p.m. will inspect Airwomen's No. 2 group headquarters at Belmont House.

Airmen Honored for Alaskan Service

IN the upper picture the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General, is seen pinning the insignia of the O.B.E. on the tunic of Group Capt. G. R. McGregor, D.F.C., for his services with regard to the protection of the Alaskan area, during a visit to a West Coast air station yesterday. Group Capt. McGregor won the D.F.C. for action in the Battle of Britain.

Squadron Leader K. A. Boomer is seen in the lower picture receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross from His Excellency. This award was made for his duties in action against the enemy, when he was credited with being the first Canadian airman to shoot down a Japanese Zero fighter.

One Fatally Hurt in Army Camp Fracas

Two Regiments in East in Brief Clash

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—Cordial relations between a Quebec regiment and an Ontario regiment at Camp Sussex, N.B., suddenly were disrupted late Thursday night when two comparatively small groups became engaged in an altercation which led to the death of one man, Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons today.

The Defence Minister said the "unfortunate incident" lasted only about fifteen minutes, and a thorough inquiry was being conducted.

Pte. D. M. Bennett, of McKellar, Ottawa suburb, died in the Camp Sussex Hospital Saturday as a result of the fracas.

Col. Ralston said the groups involved were from Les Voltigeurs de Quebec and the Dufferin and Haldimand Rifles.

"Apparently the Dufferin-Haldimand group had been visiting the canteen of the Voltigeurs and after they left the canteen hot words ensued and an argument took place, and one group apparently endeavored to get into the huts of the other and some shots were exchanged, in which Pte. Bennett, who later died, was hit, and Sgt. Bowman was hit as well," he continued.

Defence Headquarters said records showed there were two men with the rank of sergeant named Bowman in the army. One was Sgt. F. E. Bowman, whose next of kin live at Hagersville, Ont., and the other was Sgt. A. B. Bowman, whose next of kin live in Western Canada.

THINKS THREE IN HOSPITAL

Col. Ralston said: "I think there were three who were in hospital as a result of minor injuries and cuts and bruises. The actual incident, I am informed, did not last more than perhaps ten or fifteen minutes. Apparently these men came to their senses when the shots were fired, but an unfortunate development was that on Saturday afternoon Pte. Bennett died."

He said he had been advised that prior to this disturbance the most cordial relations existed between these two units and that there was no evidence whatever of any racial or religious friction, neither was it a question of general service versus National Resources Mobilization Act personnel, because all the personnel involved were general service personnel.

Col. Ralston said it appeared to have been a sudden altercation which blazed up all at once, and had it not been for the fatality perhaps not a great deal would have been heard of it.

BENNETT HAD BEEN OVERSEAS

SUSSEX, N.B., May 10 (CP).—Fighting by members of two army regiments at Camp Sussex Thursday night led to the death of Pte. D. M. Bennett in the camp hospital Saturday night.

Bennett was serving with an Ontario unit and had returned from Great Britain during the present war.

A coroner's jury viewed the body Sunday, with R. W. Grant, Sussex, acting as coroner. The inquest was set for Thursday.

It was learned that Bennett died of a bullet wound in the groin and had been a bystander. Reports persisted that as many as seventeen men suffered bullet and bayonet wounds.

Sounds of shots were heard from the camp Thursday night and Royal Canadian Mounted Police helped in restoring order.

On Saturday evening, the night of Bennett's death, trouble appeared to be brewing among soldiers on the town streets of Sussex, but they obeyed orders to return to the camp.

Larger groups than usual from the two units reported involved in the melee Thursday walked along the streets Saturday night and became noisier as time went on. The town was crowded too, with shoppers from rural areas.

Civilians and soldiers of other regiments also converged on the main streets. Earlier Provost Corps reinforcements had been placed at strategic points. Many officers in battle dress and carrying revolvers also were on the streets.

ORDERED BACK TO CAMP

Finally, with tension high, whistles were blown. Officers and non-commissioned officers halted various groups. The men of one regiment were ordered to fall in on Main Street. Marched off to camp, the unit broke ranks momentarily, but the officers gained control.

Officers of the other regiment assembled their men on Church Avenue, where trucks were waiting. The troops, ordered into the vehicles, were then taken back to camp. Other men were rounded up by the Provost Corps at restaurants and elsewhere, while others were ordered back to camp as they left a theatre.

Throughout Friday and Saturday, military police barred soldiers from entering the postoffice here.

she said, "has brought the first ray of hope to the hearts of those who are so cruelly oppressed."

"I hope it may soon be followed by the establishment of a complete, adequate united organization, and above all by action."

While the decree of martial law in Holland indicated that the Germans recognize the possibility of an Allied invasion across the English Channel, Hitler and Mussolini were reported particularly concerned with the prospects of the United Nations forces striking in the south of Europe.

This was reflected in reports that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had gone to Greece to organize defences there. At the same time, London circles with good continental connections reported that Lt.-Col. Jurgen von Arnim, Rommel's companion in the North African defeat, now is back home, faced with the prospect of shouldering the blame as Hitler's whipping boy.

ROMMEL URGED EVACUATION EARLY

These sources said Rommel reportedly told associates he had urged evacuation of Tunisia two months ago, when he saw the position there was hopeless and wanted to save his crack Africa Corps for the coming European fighting.

Five Italian divisions, it is reported, bolstered considerably by German air forces, now guard Sicily where a rising storm of Allied day and night aerial offensives already are beating the way for an attack beyond the straits, where the Royal Navy rides virtually unchallenged.

Five other Italian divisions are reported stationed on Sardinia, while two divisions, with a single German regiment, occupy Corsica.

FORMER VANCOUVER CHIEF OF POLICE

Brig. Foster is an engineer by profession, a former member of the British Columbia Legislature and a former deputy minister of public works for that province. His last civilian job before the present war was that of Vancouver chief of police. He has had long service in the militia with British Columbia formations both before and after the first Great War and is a noted alpinist and former president of the Alpine Club of Canada.

Since the outbreak of the present war he has been director of auxiliary services, district officer commanding at Regina and later at Halifax and chairman-in-chief of the Officers' Selection and Appraisal Boards.

In Desperate Fight

sion was spearheading the drive south of Hammam Lif, on the Gulf of Tunis, to seal off the neck of Cap Bon Peninsula, and has drawn its armored noose nearly halfway across this throat. British infantry columns also were smashing against the entrenched Germans.

To the southwest of this area, German units were fighting fierce rear-guard actions in the areas of Zaghouan and Enfidaville to permit the bulk of Axis forces in that mountainous terrain to retreat to Cap Bon.

The Germans were using large concentrations of artillery behind heavily-sown minefields to hold off the British Eighth Army, fighting up from the south, and the French Nineteenth Corps, striking from the southwest.

A French communique reported vigorous pursuit of the enemy north of Pont du Fahs and an eastward advance from Djebel Oust after crossing the Depienne-Tunis road. French troops have occupied the eastern slopes of the Massif, one of the main Axis mountain defences.

The British forces, although the Axis resistance was desperately fierce, thrust forward to near the centre of the base of the peninsula at a point twelve miles south of Cretoille.

British and French troops attacking below that sector in the vicinity of Zaghouan, twenty-eight miles south of Tunis, also were driving slowly ahead.

EIGHTH ARMY PUSHES AHEAD

Farther to the south, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British Eighth Army gained in attacks north of Enfidaville.

The Allied blockade was delivering a terrible punishment to German and Italian troops seeking to flee Tunisia—as most of their higher commanders already had done.

Allied planes not only swept the sea off the coast but kept the roads leading to the beaches under heavy fire.

Fragmentary information already at hand told of enemy troops dying in the flames of exploding vessels; there were stories of Germans on barges frantically waving white flags in an effort to escape further attacks.

"The blockade continues without remission," the Allied Command announced, "and will be continued until the Cap Bon Peninsula is in Allied hands and the last enemy troops have been accounted for."

The second arm of this great process of extermination—the air arm—"attacked without respite," said the communique.

"Shipping round the coast of the peninsula and to the east of Bizerte was bombed," it went on. "Vessels were sunk, others damaged and considerable losses were caused to enemy personnel."

Axis air fields remained also under violent attack. A report of an assault on the big airdrome on Pantelleria Island, forty miles off Cap Bon, told of Allied bombs bursting among grounded enemy planes and fires set off among them.

From Europe

would force her out of the war within a few weeks.

The Germans dread invasion of Greece and are evacuating the population from the Greek islands and from the Dodecanese, where Italian bases are in peril of attack. At the moment Greece is actually cut off from the outside world.

"All the Balkan capitals are just stunned by the speed and strength of the Allies' victory at Tunis," say the Turks. "German prestige is gone, and Italy should be easily knocked out."

It is not without significance that Turkish military missions have visited the magnificent Eighth Army, that Britain is supplying the Turks with war equipment for land and sea transport and raw materials. British engineers are busy at important strategic harbors like Alexandretta and Mersin and on Turkish railways. And there are other happenings in that part of the Mediterranean which cannot yet be mentioned.

So menacing does the whole outlook for this season's campaign appear to the German High Command that in desperation it will probably launch a new offensive in Russia shortly and gamble on reaching Moscow.

Woman Regains Purse

Mrs. M. Maynard, Cowichan Lake, lost a purse containing cash, a bankbook and return ticket. Thanks to the honesty of an Indian woman, Mrs. Peter Bill, Patricia Bay Reserve, who found it near the City Hall, the purse, with contents intact, was returned to Mrs. Maynard.

ALGIERS, May 10 (AP).—Gen. Henri Giraud, opening a French war loan drive, offered the French in North Africa today an opportunity to stake their money on the future of France. The bonds will pay 3 per cent and mature in three years. They are in denominations of 1,000 francs upward.

City Council Is Advised Hospital May Be Built On Royal Roads Site

A FEDERAL Government hospital contemplated at Royal Roads might be used after the war for treatment of members of the armed forces, the City Council was advised yesterday afternoon in a letter from Hon. Angus Macdonald, Minister of National Defence for Naval Services.

Mayor Andrew McGavin and aldermen [illegible] to establish hospital facilities for servicemen and women during and after the war to avoid sending such cases going to Shaughnessy Hospital at Vancouver.

Mr. Macdonald wrote in part:

"The present proposition which the navy is considering is the erection of a hospital on Royal Roads property. If such a hospital were built it would be used during the war, either as an inter-service hospital or by the Department of Pensions and National Health for the care of war veterans."

Mr. Macdonald stated the whole hospital question would be thoroughly considered by responsible officials. He said, generally speaking, the wartime committee on hospitalization was not in favor of adding wings to existing public hospitals or erecting temporary structures.

A communication from Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Pensions and National Health, informed the council officers of his department had not recommended increased hospital accommodation either here or at Vancouver, and excellent facilities at the Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals provided ample space for cases dealt with by his department.

NON-PENSIONABLES TREATED IN CITY

Mr. Mackenzie also explained non-pensionable civilians could now be treated in any hospital, and were not all sent to Vancouver. He had no reason to believe facilities at the Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals would prove inadequate.

Letters were also received by the council from Premier King, Premier Hart and the Minister of National Defence for Air acknowledging a request that hospital facilities here be extended.

On motion of Alderman Archie Wills, all correspondence was referred to the health committee. Alderman John A. Worthington suggested that the committee verify all statements contained in the letters.

In dealing with other general business, the council endorsed a Vancouver City Council resolution calling for establishment of a steel mill in British Columbia. A grant of $100 was made to the Victoria Horticultural Society. It was agreed to attend the Victoria Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., annual Empire Day ceremony in Parliament Square at 10 o'clock on the morning of May 21.

Aldermen Edward Williams, Wills and Percy E. George were asked by Mayor McGavin to participate in Victory Loan events on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. The lands committee was asked to report on plans for a boys' playground at Hillside Avenue and Cook Streets. Thirty-three property owners who signed a petition against plans of New Method Laundries, Ltd., to construct a storage building on Balmoral Road were invited to attend a conference in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

BATHING PROHIBITED AT CITY'S ELK LAKE

It was decided to pass a by-law to prohibit bathing at Elk Lake, which is now used by the R.C.A.F. It was agreed to lease twenty acres of land at Elk Lake to W. Mattick for $200 per year provided the Saanich Council concurs. Another portion of lake property was also leased to the Federal Government. Three months' leave of absence was granted to Dr Richard Felton, city medical health officer. Karma Singh and Jagindar Singh were given until September 30 to cut and deliver 1,000 cords of bush wood on city property at Goldstream.

The finance committee was asked to deal with a report showing that $4,211.22 had been granted civic employees for sick pay in 1941 and $4,958.32 in 1942. All automobile allowances were restored to the 1942 level. They were cut 25 per cent last month, but a storm of protests followed from employees. A month's leave of absence with full pay and three months on half-pay was granted Marjorie Tubman, city solicitor's secretary. The finance committee reported that a meeting with civic employees' representatives had been held to discuss the cost-of-living bonus.

Authority was given fire wardens to order 180 shirts at $2.85 each from Hall & Co., Ltd. The business and trade committee revealed the council had no power to enforce full holidays on Wednesdays. It was decided to remove a silver birch tree outside 1152 Oscar Street and an elm tree at Leighton and Richmond Roads. Alderman Worthington voted against the removals.

WARTIME HOUSING LOTS SET ASIDE

On motion of Alderman Hawkins, 125 lots in James Bay and Burnside districts were set aside for Wartime Housing, Limited, dwellings. They will be sold for $1 each, and the homes will be used for shipyard employees. Alderman Hawkins intimated twenty homes would be erected in James Bay district and eighty in the Burnside area. Alderman Archie Wills voted against the property deal.

Two city-owned houses at 437 and 451 Parry Street were sold for a total of $1,500. Lots sold and the approximate locations were: East side of Julia Street, near Caledonia Avenue, $75; north side of Craigflower Road, near Burleith Crescent, $100; north side of Burdett Avenue, near Cook Street, $250; southwest corner of Cook Street and Empress Avenue, $400; northwest corner of Windermere Place and Masters Road, $350, and a lot on the north side of Yates Street, near Vancouver Street, $850.

An offer of $2,525 for a house and eighteen acres of farm land at 1624 Hillside Avenue was declined.

On motion of Alderman Morgan, it was agreed to support an application of J. H. Unicume, local representative of the fuel board, for a government automobile and allowance. A grant of $1,000 was made to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Mayor McGavin voted against the payment.

Blast Shatters War Plant, Killing Twenty

A General View of the Wreckage at the Plant of the Triumph Explosives Co., Near Elkton, Md., Where an Estimated Thirteen to Twenty Persons Were Killed and More Than 100 Reported Injured by a Blast Which Shattered a Number of Buildings.

Councillor J. A. Ellis stated children were allowed to run wild, and it would be advisable to avail themselves of the services of trained social workers.

Building Inspector McCulloch was asked to investigate the condition of streets said to be in need of repair, and a motion by Councillors Christensen and F. G. Eaton that work on Macaulay, Head, Admirals Road and Effingham should proceed without delay, was passed.

A tender submitted by Carter-Halls-Aldinger Company for the construction of 3,200 feet of road on Craigflower Road, and set at $1,992 was passed after some discussion, as 1,600 gallons of asphalt would be required and Esquimalt's quota has been fixed at 3,000 gallons, some councillors expressed the fear that this amount might be insufficient to resurface roads under consideration.

than nineteen raid junctions in which the Soviet planes struck in force at Bryansk—Nazi supply crossroad for the central and southern fronts—shattering railway buildings and exploding big ammunition dumps.

Troop and supply-laden trains were bombed in other rail junction attacks at Belgorod, Kharkov, Lazovaya, Kramatorskaya, Orel, Mtsensk, Nevel, Vitebsk, Novi, Skolniki and another town the name of which the Soviet monitor was unable to distinguish.

This covers the two greatest German backling areas feeding the Eastern Ukraine battlefield, whence the Nazi 1942 Fall offensive sprung and the Velikie Luki front between Smolensk and Leningrad.

Even before the Rostov-Batajsk air battles, the Russians announced that 930 German planes had been destroyed in aerial combat in the past week, against a loss of 235 Soviet planes.

Besides Bryansk, the rail junctions attacked previously included Poltava, Belgorod, Dorogobush, while other targets were near Orel, Vitebsk and Elnya.

Council Invests $11,900 in Loan

The Esquimalt Council expressed its interest in the feasibility of a Greater Victoria last night at its regular meeting, when its members voted to "invite the City Council to circularize the other surrounding municipalities with a view to calling a general meeting of those municipal councils interested in the same." The motion was brought before the council by Councillor J. P. A. Christensen, with Councillor T. Hadfield as seconder.

Reeve Alex Lockley said he feared such a motion might be misinterpreted by the public, who might believe the movers were dissatisfied with existing conditions and had little faith in the future of the district.

Councillor Christensen stated that this was not his attitude and that he wished only to have an opportunity to discuss the proposal and weigh its possibilities.

A resolution to invest $11,900, due the Esquimalt municipality from the Dominion Government in the Fourth Victory Loan, was passed unanimously following a motion by Councillor T. Hadfield.

Esquimalt will receive a total of some $18,000 from a Dominion Government appropriation.

The sum of $50 was voted for Victory Loan advertising arranged jointly with the municipalities of Oak Bay and Saanich. A further sum of $75 was voted on the motion of Councillor Christensen to the Children's Aid Society for work to be done in Esquimalt municipality.

New Germ Killer Is Discovered

A second and more potent weapon against disease germs has been discovered in the mold Penicillium notatum. The new derivative, called penatin, is reported by Dr. Walter Kocholaty of the University of Pennsylvania in Science. Not only is penatin more powerful than penicillin but it is active against disease germs which are hardly affected by penicillin. Of fifty disease-causing and nondisease-causing organisms, not one could resist penatin in dilutions of not less than one to 10,000,000 parts and sometimes in dilutions of one to 400,000,000. Penatin not only stops the growth of organisms but also, though to a lesser extent, kills them.

Moving Men From Yards To Forests

Also Transferring Some to Coal Mines

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP)—Selective Service Director Arthur MacNamara said tonight that Selective Service now was transferring to their former occupations experienced loggers and miners who have been working in British Columbia shipyards.

He was commenting upon a dispatch carried by The Vancouver Province saying that the Selective Service Department had given logging, mining and farming war priority over shipbuilding. This, he said, was incorrect; only experienced loggers and miners, not farmers, were affected.

"I wouldn't want to give the impression," he said, "that we have given these industries priority over shipbuilding. There is a serious shortage of experienced coal miners and lumber operators in British Columbia.

"We think it is easier to train a man for work in the shipyards than for the highly technical work in mines and in the woods."

ROOSEVELT IN BRITAIN

LONDON, May 10 (CP)—Col Elliott Roosevelt, son of President Roosevelt, is back in Britain, the United States Eighth Air Force disclosed today. Commander of an aerial photo reconnaisance unit, Roosevelt came here last Fall and then went to North Africa to participate in the aerial campaign there.

Sir Gerald Dodson, the recorder, said during a case at London's Old Bailey that "when a man wants to marry, he very seldom takes anybody's advice."

EPOCH-MAKING EVENTUALITIES

The character of the victory of the United Nations in North Africa is gradually coming to light. It forecasts the end of the resistance there of the Axis Powers who are now standing at bay in a position of extremity. From 50,000 to 75,000 Axis troops have been captured as a result of the seizure of Tunis and Bizerte. They have been surrendering in a wholesale fashion, indicating their realization that effective resistance is no longer possible. Much booty, too, has been captured, tanks, guns and other equipment, and as a factor in the air fighting the effort of the enemy has now become almost negligible. The Mediterranean passage from Italy and Sicily to Tunisia is now controlled by the Royal Navy and the air forces of the United Nations.

Apart from any immediate consideration of the opening of a second front in Europe, the United Nations now have greater control of the Mediterranean route than at any time in the course of the war. Supplies and troops going to India and the Far East can now be conveyed in comparative safety by this route and many thousands of miles in transit can thus be saved and much time conserved. The United Nations, too, can, with greater impunity than in the past, add to the strength of their fighting forces based in North Africa, and for whatever purpose they have in view.

The possession of Bizerte is described as a dagger pointed at the heart of Italy. That, of course, has given rise to the belief that the "second front" will be opened on the shores of the Mediterranean. That is possible, and it is possible, as well, that another front would be opened at the same time on the shores of the North Sea. All is merely speculation as to what the next development in the war will be, but there is general acknowledgement that the approaching end of the campaign in North Africa has epoch-making eventualities.

DRASTIC PROPOSALS IN WAR INDUSTRY

There is talk of a major change in the direction and purpose of war industry in this country. An Ottawa dispatch, which there is no reason to doubt, speaks of preparations in hand to meet shifting requirements of the war. It forecasts a slackening of the production of munitions and an increase in the building of naval escort vessels and airplanes. The reason given is that "production in this country has helped to build up a big surplus in many lines which will have to be discontinued or decreased," and this despite the fact that a new offensive in Europe is forecast. It is hinted, too, that the proposed changes in production are due to the shipping problem, the conclusion being that more supplies have accumulated than can be transported within a reasonable time by the available tonnage. Yet another cause given is that the character of fighting on land is changing, that tanks, for instance, are no longer a formidable weapon and that their production in this country has been discontinued already.

The foregoing constitute rather sweeping assertions. They are the basis for a warning being sounded that temporary unemployment of workers will result while there is a change over, but that the intention is to "hold labor dislocation to a minimum," and that, "at the same time, the shuffle in arms and munitions output will be effected with the greatest possible speed in order to meet the new needs rapidly." The suggestion is that what is proposed is to be done by the Government of its own volition, whereas the character of the changes outlined are obviously such as should be discussed by Parliament. It is by no means clear, because of the character of the war, that the revolution in production as now outlined is necessary, or desirable, or that those contemplating it take the long view.

For one thing the revolutionary change in production will take considerable time to effect and it is to be brought about at a time when the war is reaching new stages in intensity. There is no such programme, as is outlined for this country, contemplated in either Great Britain or the United States so far as is known. There has not been even a hint of it. Canada alone among the nations cannot estimate what are the requirements of the months and years to come. It is a gratuitous assumption that tanks have outlived their usefulness in the war because of the ability to destroy them by anti-tank defences. They have been and continue to be used in the North African campaign and in Russia and there is no knowledge of a cessation of their production anywhere save in this Dominion. There must, therefore, be some reason, other than those alleged, if Canada, after a somewhat brief experience in their manufacture, has come to the conclusion that they should no longer be constructed here.

There is the case, too, of some vacuity in the suggestion that more naval escort vessels should be constructed. Undoubtedly they are needed, needed far in excess of what would be needed if faster cargo vessels were being built. It is another question altogether, however, if, because of the need for their construction in large numbers, there should be dislocation in other war industries which took so long to bring into full production. There is the thought, as well, that should there be a major change in the direction and purpose of war industries the time may well come when there would have to be another change to revert to the character of industrial output that is now in progress.

The fact is that, if what is suggested is in contemplation, Parliament and the country should be informed of how such conclusions have been reached. Any dislocation of industry on a large scale at this time would have many serious implications. There would be temporary unemployment and consequent unrest. Much time would elapse before the change over could be made. Moreover, what the Government appears to have in mind, on the face of it, calls for the most thorough investigation by Parliament. What will be needed for the future, and any re-orientation in industrial policy for war purposes, must take into consideration the task that will remain of defeating Japan after defeating Germany. The Government at Ottawa, except in the matter of defensive measures, has been concerned but little in shaping this country's course for an offensive against the Oriental enemy, yet that is a task in which Canada should have the utmost concern. Any major change in industrial production at a time like this, when the war is reaching new heights, means, necessarily, retardation in that production and of what have proved up to date essential weapons of war. This country's war effort would, for the time being, become proportionately curtailed. What, therefore, are the "compelling" reasons for the changes proposed?

WHERE DO WE STAND?

Some confusion, at least on the part of the general public, would appear to be working its way into the present Victory Loan campaign. The public is told in one breath that Greater Halifax, at noon yesterday, has subscribed for $6,030,250 worth of bonds, against $4,474,700 taken in Greater Victoria; and in the next breath that not all of Victoria's competitive total has been added, while in Halifax it may have been or has. Those in charge of the drive have now had two weeks to clear up this anomaly, and to let the public know precisely where Greater Victoria stands.

The inter-city contest is being conducted on the basis of general subscriptions, which include service and employee groups. The special-names lists, it has been agreed, would be set aside. Although Victoria is one city in Canada that has always come to the front with such special subscriptions in all previous bond campaigns, we have agreed that the competition would be fairer without them, and so the contest rests upon general subscriptions by the public only. Surely, we should know by this time if Halifax is adding military and employee totals—as she has a right to do—in the daily score. It would seem that what have been reported here are only partial returns, and not totals.

The most lively interest has been aroused by the campaign, and the high note in that is the inter-city competition in a first class cause. It is only natural that Victorians want to know if they are $1,500,000 behind in the contest at present, or not. If Halifax is reporting full totals, so should we. If Halifax is not, then we will have to work still harder to catch up. There should be no confusion in the issue at this date. A clear and unequivocal statement should be made of just where we stand in the inter-city contest now.

After the campaign is over, and the inter-city contest decided, there will still remain to be added to what Greater Victoria has done in the drive the result of subscriptions from the special list; for that and the general lists will be what this community will have done in the campaign. It is precisely there that the quota system confuses. By general subscriptions Greater Victoria is expected to raise $7,080,000 in the drive. In actual fact its complete subscription may be, and should be, nearly twice that. It is anomalous, then, to talk of general quotas and per capita subscriptions, unless those factors are also realized and understood. In point of cast, we believe Greater Victoria has made a very good start in the drive, although less than half of the total amount subscribed will count towards the inter-city contest.

A MISSION TO RUSSIA

Fairly obviously the desire of President Roosevelt, of the United States, in sending Mr. Joseph E. Davies as a personal emissary to President Stalin, of Russia, is with the desire of ironing out some difficulties that have developed in the United Nations presenting a united front to the enemy. It may be that the chief executive of the United States is suggesting a personal meeting at some place for discussion on the broad aspects of the war. There can be only speculation as to this. What there is little doubt about is that Mr. Roosevelt is anxious to be of assistance in ironing out the difficulties that have developed between Russia and Poland. Moreover, the likelihood is that he is anxious to know in a wider sense what further assistance the United States can give to the Soviet realm. It may be, as well, that he seeks to enlist the good offices of Russia in subscribing to the Atlantic Charter, and perhaps, too, there is the desire to learn what will be the future attitude of the U.S.S.R. towards Japan, a matter that could prove of vital assistance in the war in the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Churchill has been in Russia and has conferred with M. Stalin. He knows the latter's attitude in respect to many facets of the war. There may be some of these in which the British Prime Minister hopes Mr. Roosevelt's influence would prove of value. It may be even that the mission of Mr. Davies has been inspired by Mr. Churchill. The Russian leader is, presumably, being kept informed of British and American plans respecting coming offensive operations. More intimate co-operation in the preparation for these would make for greater solidarity in a united front. That may well be the main purpose of Mr. Roosevelt's decision to send a personal representative to Russia with the specific purpose of bearing proposals to M. Stalin. The impression prevails in all quarters that great events are pending. In these the utmost co-operation of Russia is of high importance.

THE PLACE

Blossoms as old as May I scatter here,
And a blue wave I lifted from the stream.
It shall not know when Winter days are drear
Or March is hoarse with blowing. But a-dream
The laurel boughs shall hold a canopy
Peacefully over it the Winter long,
Till all the birds are back from overseas,
And April rainbows win a blackbird's song.

And when the war is over I shall take
My lute a-down to it and sing again
Songs of the whispering things amongst the brake,
And those I love shall know them by their strain.
Their airs shall be the blackbird's twilight song,
Their words shall be all flowers with fresh dews hour—
But it is lonely now in winter long,
And, God! to hear the blackbird sing once more.

THE WEEK

Western Front—In a week of indifferent weather, the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. carried out one of the heaviest night raids of the war on Dortmund, where more than 1,000 tons of bombs were laid on selected targets. Thirty-three planes failed to return. [illegible] using their own fighter escort, contributed a hard day raid on Antwerp, and followed this with raids against Abbeville and other points on the French coast. British interceptors and fighters maintained their day sweeps over the Channel; driving on roads, rails and enemy airdromes. A number of German machines were dropped on their own dromes after scattered raids on East Anglia and south coast points in England, in one of which some damage was done. The largest enemy raiding party was reported as seven machines, two of which were shot down over England and one on its return to France. As against that, the United Nations were using forces several hundred strong, by day and night as the weather permitted. An official summary indicated that 10,000 tons of bombs had been dropped on enemy targets during April, including three of the heaviest raids of the war. The attacks were made from east and west, and bracketed all of Germany and most of the occupied lands on the Channel side. Russian machines co-operated in stiff raids on Baltic, East Prussian and other points. Losses to U-boats in April were reported as less than in the month previous, and less than in the corresponding month last year. A German propaganda guess of sixty-three Allied vessels was described at Washington as a gross exaggeration, though actual figures were withheld. Unrest was reported at Sofia, Bulgaria; coupled with the flight of King Boris from that capital. A Gestapo leader in the East was assassinated. London, Washington and Moscow joined in jubilation over the smashing defeat of the enemy in Tunisia and in the Northwestern Caucasus. At Malta, church bells rang for the first time in more than three years.

Southern Front—In Tunisia, the Allies again outwitted and outfought the enemy in smashing drives spearheaded by the British First Army and the United States Second Army Corps, with Fighting French units. The Allied attack developed swiftly. United States and French troops outflanked Bizerte from the north, around the shores of Lake Achkel; advanced from Mateur to the capture of Ferryville in hard fighting; and took Bizerte, the naval base, from the hands of German demolition guards. Meanwhile, the British First Army, against whom the enemy had arrayed the mass of his infantry, beat the enemy back northwest of Tebourba; advanced up the Medjerda Valley; gained the Medjez-El-Bab-Tunis road; took Massicault, and pushed on to the capture of Tunis, the capital, simultaneously with the fall of Bizerte. Co-operating with both British and United States forces, the French saw hard fighting in their drive from Pont du Fahs, and also north of Lake Achkel, and contributed much to the success of a co-ordinated and brilliantly successful attack. The upshot of seventy-two hours' stiff fighting, in which repeated German counter-attacks were thrown back and the enemy's armor beaten, was that Von Arnim's and Rommel's forces were pried successively out of three lines of fortified defences; lost their two last citadels; were wedged apart at the Gulf of Tunis; and driven in disorderly flight into the hills southeast of Bizerte, and in the south, to the Cap Bon Peninsula. The much-vaunted defence of Tunisia had crumbled. Twenty-five thousand prisoners were taken during the attack. Allied planes, flying 2,500 sorties a day, blasted a path four miles broad by one mile deep at the height of the advance. Broken and sundered, the main body of the Axis was trapped between the British First Army in the centre and the British Eighth Army in the south, at the neck of the Cap Bon Peninsula. United States units, with the French, were cleaning up last pockets of resistance in the Bizerte zone, and had wedged through to the Gulf of Tunis. The last stage of battle was reached, in a growing Axis debacle. In the north seven German generals and 25,000 men surrendered to United States units in the Bizerte zone. The British First Army had taken 25,000 more, and 80,000 others were penned in the Cap Bon zone. Closed out in Tunisia, where they were beaten from the sky, Axis planes retired on Sicily; followed by a mounting weight of Allied air attack on Marsala, Palermo, Reggio and Taranto, the last two named in Southern Italy. More than fifty Axis ships were sunk in the Sicilian gap, and between there and the Gulf of Tunis. A water-tight and air-tight blockade sealed Tunisia, and blocked desultory attempts at evacuation. For all Axis forces left on North African soil it was a case of annihilation or surrender as the period closed. More than 50,000 prisoners had been taken, and thousands more were throwing down their arms.

Eastern Front—Hardly less dramatic was the Russian victory over the enemy in the Northwestern Caucasus, climaxing a bitter two-month campaign. In repeated assaults, Russian infantry, tanks and planes beat the enemy out of his Kuban valley lines; wedged German and Rumanian forces apart; cut off the Kuban battle from Novorossisk; breached the German lines nine miles north of that Black Sea port with massed cannon fire, and canceled out all German gains of the last sixty days. The conflict continued at its height, with German levies on the defensive, and falling back towards the Strait of Kerch. Ten thousand enemy dead, and scores of planes and cannon, were part of the price the enemy paid for his efforts to hold the Caucasus bridgehead or to enlarge it. Meanwhile, mounting Russian pressure was exploiting these gains, and giving the enemy no rest. Considerable aerial activity was reported on the whole of the Caucasus front, with Russian planes forcing the pace and taking a considerable toll of the enemy. More than 200 German machines were destroyed during the week; while Constanta, the Strait of Kerch, and all forward bases were bombed repeatedly. The Germans were falling back on Novorossisk, with fighting in its outskirts, as the period ended; their lines breached and the Russians attacking in considerable weight. Elsewhere on the long front patrols and local actions were reported.

Other Fronts—In Burma, Japanese patrols along the east bank of the Mayu River forced the pace, in anticipation of the monsoon season. British patrols withdrew northward, after some sharp clashes in the Butedaung area. There was a brisk exchange of air bombardment, in which British and United States machines rapped Japanese bases and communications; but no direct evidence of large scale reinforcement or major action upon either side. Akyab remained in Japanese hands, but the enemy had been prevented from doing much with it. In China, there was some Japanese reinforcement of existing battle lines, to make good losses inflicted by the Chinese in repeated local actions. Hainan Island, in South China, and Hanoi, in Indo-China, were bombed by United States machines. Reports from the front were meagre. In the Southwestern Pacific, the Allies carried air war vigorously to the enemy at many bases in the New Guinea and Solomons areas. Wewak and Madang, in New Guinea, were pounded; as were a number of island bases northeast and northwest in the archipelago. Off the Komandorski Islands, near the Siberian Coast, there was a sharp brush between naval forces. Japanese heavy cruisers and destroyers, guarding a Kiska convoy, were engaged by a lighter United States force in a running battle lasting four hours. The enemy broke off the engagement, and the convoy was scattered. Two enemy cruisers and some smaller craft sustained direct hits in the action, it was officially reported; though details were withheld for the present. In the Aleutians, the Allies moved up a little closer to Japan. A new forward air base was reported established sixty-five miles east of Kiska; and shuttle raids begun on Kiska and Attu in day-long attacks by United States medium bombers. The new base is west of the Andreanof Islands, and marks a further Allied advance along the Aleutian chain. No direct change was reported in ground positions in the New Guinea area, although aerial activity was being maintained on both sides. The week brought also the fourth peace-feeler of the war, one made on Sunday by General Franco, twenty-three days after a similar appeal by his foreign minister had been ignored. The Allies retorted that the words still were: "unconditional surrender."

THE FUEL PROBLEM

Sir,—We do not wish to discourage the formation of citizens' wood-cutting groups, but on the contrary would encourage self help, and volunteer help on behalf of others unable to do such work for themselves.

However, the intelligent direction of initiative and energy will achieve better results.

Everything possible should be done to reduce the excessive cost of bushwood delivered. One expensive factor is long-distance trucking, which is also hard on gasoline and tires. If suitable timber is available near the sea, water transport is cheaper for a comparable distance. The bone-dry nature and high fuel value of bushwood, which has never been in water, is well known, but who can afford such a luxury at the anticipated price? Is the use of such a fuel at such a price justified if it may be avoided?

No one should hesitate to accept water-borne fuel logs under circumstances existing. By moving small booms a short distance and lifting logs from the water immediately, the effect of immersion is negligible. If logs have been towed by sea for a month, and lain in the water at the mill for weeks or months it is a different matter.

The idea of transporting groups of citizens to timber stands to cut their own wood is wasteful of time and labor and fails to bring the best results. Too much time is lost going to and fro reducing the working time. The expense is unnecessary if a minimum number of experienced fallers and buckers or swampers are available. If trucking is unavoidable, the logs should be hauled as logs to distributing centres throughout Greater Victoria, taken from those centres by a Ross carrier to householders willing to saw them into stove-lengths, at home, at leisure; or put a drag saw or drag saws to work at the district woodyard; or let citizens use their spare time and labor more efficiently by going to work at the distributing point nearest home, receiving credit for the amount of hours worked, or wood cut, if crosscut saws are used.

A small frame shanty is advisable at such points for men and tools, with a stove for Winter use. And the hired crew of fallers, etc., should have a temporary camp right at the site of the timber stand.

A PROVINCIAL FLOWER EMBLEM

Sir,—In reply to a letter of Sunday, May 9, recommending broom as a provincial flower emblem, may I suggest in its place the erythronium commonly called "wild lily," whose delicate beauty is unrivalled and which grows so bountifully in our midst. The broom is not a native shrub and is rapidly becoming a menace in many parts of the island.

THE SOYA BEAN

Sir,—A soya bean successfully grown and matured here in Victoria can be bought from the Dominion Seed House Co., Georgetown, Ontario. This bean has a greenish color as compared with other varieties on the market and is an excellent eating bean, either before fully ripened or later. A sample of this bean grown here two years ago was distributed to those at the last Vegetarian meeting and if planted should give further results as to suitability for Victoria gardens.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 18 feet to the height of high water as above given.

POLES AND RUSSIANS

The breaking of relations, ten days ago, between Stalin and General Sikorski's Polish Government in exile, has opened the whole question of Russia and the Western nations. The return of Mr. Litvinoff to [illegible] of former Ambassador Davies foreshadow new negotiations. Fortunately, there are symptoms of good will from both sides.

The attitude of the British and American Governments has been to try to reconcile both parties, and, on no account, to drive the wedge deeper.

From the Russian side, there is lately a distinct change of tone. Stalin, in his order of the day of May 1, accepted, for the first time, the Casablanca formula of "unconditional surrender."

He also, for the first time, has changed his attitude of denigrating the North African campaign and the bombing raids over Europe and Germany, which, of late, have been costing us dearly. He now appreciates both as substantial contributions to victory, and affirms unequivocally that Russia and the Western Powers are fighting a united war of coalition.

So the atmosphere is not as bad as might have been feared a fortnight ago.

But this does not settle the basic issues regarding the war aims of the several powers. There have been apprehensions that Russia might possibly get out of the war and conclude a separate peace with Hitler. Stalin's latest statements rule this out—and so does Hitler's launching of the story about the massacre of Polish officers. For if Hitler were thinking of a separate peace with Russia, he would not have launched his story at this moment.

He obviously launched it in order to deepen the breach between Poles and Russians, whose relations have been unhappy for a year and a half, and probably with it, he hoped to make overtures to certain sections of the Polish people.

Hitler is forming new armies, out of such Eastern European peoples as he can command, and recently it became known that a captured Red Army general is recruiting an army of Ukrainians, from the territory occupied by the Germans.

IN THE LAST WAR

The German High Command certainly recalls that during the last war, a Polish legion was formed on German soil out of refugees, and men from the territories occupied then as now by the Germans. They were led by Colonel Pilsudski—afterwards marshal—and fought the Russians. Late in 1917 Pilsudski broke with the Germans when they tried to set up a Hohenzollern prince as king of Poland, and he was arrested and interned in the fortress of Magdeburg.

The policy of Pilsudski, as head of the Polish state, was consistently to try to avoid either a clash or a union between Germany and Russia, both of whom, from a Polish viewpoint, and from Polish history, were potential enemies.

Since Russia and Germany have both, in the past, and during this very war, collaborated to destroy Poland, neither country is beloved by the Poles, and there is always the possibility that one branch of Polish opinion and leadership might be exploited against the other. Hitler is obviously trying to do this now—to woo those Poles who might so greatly fear Russia as to forget what the Nazis have done. So far it is the glory of Poland that she has never had a quisling.

QUESTION OF FRONTIERS

In this situation it is unfortunate that the question of frontiers was ever unrolled at all. Nothing is more dangerous than to start dividing the spoils of war before the war is won. Both Russia and Poland have signed the Atlantic Charter, which contains three pledges. First, no aggrandizement, territorial or otherwise; second, no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the people concerned; third, the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live.

This bars out enlargement of the territory of any Ally at the expense of another, and even enlargement of territories at the expense of the enemy, unless the peoples themselves desire it.

It is possible that the Russians date their acceptance of these principles from the time when they entered the war, and thus find it compatible with the Atlantic Charter to claim the Baltic States and Eastern Poland. But I think this is stretching the Atlantic Charter very dangerously. I believe that what concerns Russia is frontier security, and that depends upon the sort of peace organization that we are able to create after the war.

[illegible] men for the Poles and even the Polish Government in exile have advanced claims for a greater Poland which are certainly incompatible with the charter.

In a war of coalition, where there are divergent interests amongst Allies, the only safety lies in sticking to clear principles, and not departing from them by an inch. For every departure, by one nation or another, opens a breach into which the enemy moves with the greatest expedition.

At the Port of Seattle all vehicles undergo daily tire inspections, and even minor cuts and stone bruises are immediately repaired. Tires are switched from wheel to wheel, including spares, every ninety days. Wheel alignment is closely watched to prevent undue wear. All truck drivers are constantly reminded by signs, posters, circulars and motion pictures of tire and gasoline conservation. A brief mechanical check of every truck is made daily, followed by a complete examination weekly. Our city fathers might well follow suit with the many vehicles in their charge . . . In Montana the liquor ration is two quarts of gin, rye or Scotch per week, but brandy, wine, beer and rum are not rationed . . . The weather lately has not been too bad for March. Ever since daylight saving time was imposed in Canada the weather has been abnormal . . . We hope the Wartime Prices and Trade Board puts a ceiling on the prices of fresh and salt fish, liver, hearts, tripe, bacon, kidneys, brains and other meat by-products because they will otherwise cost a lot more when meat rationing becomes effective . . . Complaint from a civil servant: "Where is the dividing line between inefficiency and sabotage? As long as a person in a responsible position can keep blundering along and making colossal mistakes that hinder the war effort, is it inefficiency or sabotage? If the removal of such a person is necessary by promotion, and it is often done, is it still inefficiency or is it sabotage?" . . . Note from a reader: "In Duncan you can still purchase lots of chocolate bars and cheap rice to take the place of potatoes. But canned goods are high in price, and the bakery shops do not make layer cakes" . . . Proof liquor contains 57 per cent proof spirits by volume. The '30 under proof' "eyewash" now being doled out contains not more than 38 per cent alcohol by volume . . . A work week of six days each of eight hours has been fixed for boys and girls who volunteer for farm labor in California. How long will our boys and girls have to toil under the present emergency labor plan?

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West's pass over the spade bid was, of course, a "trapping" measure. It was not entirely successful because neither North nor East had enough strength to keep the bidding open, but East-West came out with a nice profit nevertheless.

West decided to attack the trump suit immediately, since to do so would not jeopardize his two trump tricks. He opened the spade four. After long thought, declarer played dummy's seven and took East's eight with the jack. A low heart was led toward dummy. West hopped up with the ace and, when the eight spot fell from East's hand, continued with a low heart, the five spot. Dummy's king was played and promptly ruffed by East with the spade six. The club queen was East's return. Declarer won and, for want of a better play, exited with the club ten. West had failed to echo on the two leads of clubs, hence East knew that he did not favor the continuation of that suit. Acting on the line of defence implied by West's choice of opening leads, East now led back his remaining spade, the nine spot. South ducked, and West won with the queen. West had carefully noted the fall of every spade from the jack to the six and knew at this point that he could safely continue with the king. Declarer's ace was driven out and, when West later regained the lead, he drew declarer's last trump, the three, with his own five spot, and cashed high cards, holding the contract to a total of three tricks—the spade ace and jack and the club ace.

Declarer could have saved some points by making better guesses in the spade and heart suits but he would have had to be second-sighted against the masterly defence he met.

Boat That Landed Enemy in Ireland—The collapsible boat in which the Germans landed the man on the Irish coast has been inspected by officials. It is made of canvas, with a bottom of twenty-three wooden slats each four inches wide, making the boat about eight feet long and two feet wide. The canvas sides, about twenty inches high, have an inner lining of rubber fabric, which is inflated to give the boat buoyancy. There are loops along the sides in which short wooden braces or struts keep the boat from collapsing. In the side of the boat is a hole about three inches in diameter which presumably was cut by the occupant in an effort to sink her after landing.

Street Improvement—A plan for the improvement of Belleville Street, between James Bay Bridge and Maclure Street, has been prepared by Alderman Henderson, and will be submitted to the Council shortly. It is intended to make the street run in a direct line, and for this purpose to acquire the long narrow strip of private property now fenced in on the north side, near Maclure Street. The fact that none of the property affected is built upon, and that it all belongs to the same owners, simplifies the management.

New Factory—Yesterday we inspected this creditable establishment to our town. The building is 75 x 30 feet, and cost Mr. Jones, as it stands, $4,000. All kinds of doors, window sashes, blinds, furniture, etc., can now be manufactured here. In a short time the proprietor will have the machinery for moulding, which will make the works complete. The engine is of 10 horsepower. Let every person patronize Mr. Jones, for such enterprises as his are what will make the Colony independent.

Axis Expected Eighth Army To Storm Tunis but Smart Double-Play Fooled Enemy

Part of Montgomery's Men Joined First Army Twenty-Five Miles Away and Went Into Attack

LONDON, May 10 (CP).—The present disposition of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth Army, used as a decoy in Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth Anderson's master strategy for the capture of Tunis, may answer the riddle of where the United Nations will strike next.

Its position was last reported in the Ainhallouf area north of Enfidaville, facing powerful German and Italian units near the base of the Cap Bon "thumb" thrusting into the battle-tossed Mediterranean.

It is known that some of the best units of the Eighth Army—notably the Seventh Armored Division and the Fourth Indian Division—were pulled out of the Ainhallouf area and sent to join the First Army for the Tunis attack. The main Axis worry is this: Is the remainder of the Eighth Army still in the Ainhallouf sector, or have other units been withdrawn to the rear for regrouping and preparation for another stroke elsewhere—either in the final phase of the Cap Bon campaign or the initial phase of the new battle of Europe?

HOW DOUBLE PLAY FOOLED THE AXIS

Briefly, here is how an intriguing double play between Gen. Montgomery and Gen. Anderson fooled the Axis:

One night just before dark the Eighth was all set for an attempt to smash through the strong forces facing it and take Tunis for Gen. Montgomery.

A few hours before zero time, Gen. Montgomery called his corps and divisional commanders together, told them the attack had been called off, and detailed a few units which were to join the First Army, twenty-five miles away.

These units were pulled out of the line and within an hour of joining the First Army, just about dawn, pushed to the front of the advancing forces and stormed towards Tunis.

The Axis, left with most of his armor and the major part of his guns and troops facing the Eighth Army, was caught off base.

NO TIME TO MEET THREAT

There wasn't even time to pull up the dormant force to meet the new threat because Tunis and Bizerte fell too quickly. So this strong and well-equipped Axis force remains where it was, in imminent danger of being trapped and cut off, losing slightly against line-straightening attacks from what is left of the Eighth Army and wondering where the rest of it is.

The Axis may also be wondering where Gen. Montgomery himself is. His Easter visit to Cairo may have been just a coincidence, of course, but history is short of instances of generals leaving their troops in the heat of battle to make social calls well over 1,000 miles away.

Following that has come an important conference of Middle East military and civilian chiefs now in progress in Cairo. Gen. Montgomery is not among those reported present.

Cardin Criticized

She said she admired French-Canadians' expression of their love of country, but it should be remembered they were not the native people of Canada. The American Indians, the native people, had suffered from the French and English invasions, and there should be a sense of guilt when the Indian place in the national life was considered.

If there were a third invasion of Canada at the present time, Canadians would be lucky if they were to survive as long as the Indians.

Mrs. Nielsen said Mr. Cardin was not anxious to see the spearhead in Europe made by Canadians and had said if it were delayed it would be better.

"Three cheers for Goebbels and company!" she continued. "The very thing they themselves will advocate and try to gain if at all possible.

LIKENS SPEECH TO ONE OF A QUISLING

"My friend, I speak to you very honestly. I said it would be too good to be true that we in Canada do not have Quislings. Seldom have I heard anyone voice anything more in favor of the Axis than the opinions that have been declared by the honorable member for Richelieu-Vercheres in that infamous speech."

Frederick Dorion (Independent, Charlevoix-Saguenay), supporting the Roy amendment, said everyone in the Dominion wished to win the war, but Canadians were the only ones, as in the last war, who would draw no benefit from it. Canada must get rid of the spirit of colonialism.

Finance Minister Ilsley, sponsor of the bill, asked if it were "colonial [illegible] New Zealand, Russia, China and other countries allied with Canada in the war.

Mutual aid was not tribute nor charity but sound common sense, the doing of a duty.

Canada had made its decisions unprompted by the United Kingdom, the United States or any other nation.

"The phrase (of colonial tribute) is fantastic and ridiculous and is entirely unwarranted," said Mr. Ilsley.

ILSLEY "ASTONISHED" AT CARDIN'S REMARKS

He was "astonished" it had been uttered by his former colleague in the Cabinet, Mr. Cardin. The real test of a nation's sacrifice was not taxation, but what the people had left after taxation and the lending of money to the Government. When it was claimed Canadians had less left than the British people, then the statement could not be proved for one minute in the light of true conditions.

Mrs. Nielsen said any effort to arouse differences between Canada and the other United Nations jeopardized the whole fight for freedom. Anything which impeded the Allies' new offensive aided Hitler. The German leader had sought to drive a wedge between Poland and Russia and isolate Russia. The Russians had the courage to shoot the spies sent among them and Hitler's plans had been thwarted.

At the councils after the war, Canada as a free nation could vote on her status.

Mrs. Nielsen said she was surprised no one had answered Mr. Cardin's speech.

The men overseas were better representatives of Canada than Mr. Cardin, and it was up to all with a share in Canada to see there was fairness for all in Canada. The men overseas would give their lives to save the aged people of Canada, to save their wives and children from being raped, buried alive, killed. They would refute the words of Mr. Cardin.

AMENDMENT OFFERED NO ALTERNATIVE

Mr. Ilsley said the Roy amendment did not suggest any alternative to the course proposed in the bill. It simply said Parliament had no mandate to do it.

"This Parliament has the clearest possible mandate to do everything possible to bring this war to a successful conclusion at the earliest possible moment," said Mr. Ilsley.

If the bill were not adopted, the war effort would be curtailed and its whole direction altered.

If Canada's mutual aid was colonial tribute then the United States, which was doing the same, was making colonial tribute. The statement was obviously absurd.

The real test was what the people had left to enjoy after paying their taxes and contributing to the war effort. It could be clearly demonstrated that the British people had much less than the Canadian, in meat, in clothing, in gasoline, in almost everything.

It had been said India and South Africa had gone further than Canada in stripping the United Kingdom of securities. But these countries had not repatriated privately-held securities. Government debts had been substantially repatriated. Canada had gone at least as far. Canadian Government securities had been repatriated and there had been a suggestion Canada had gone too far.

UNTHINKABLE TO REVERT TO CASH

Mr. Ilsley said that having in mind relations with the United States, and the fact the United States had long since gone off the cash-on-the-barrel basis, it would be unthinkable Canada would revert to that method in carrying on the war—demanding cash.

Canada would have unemployment if the United Nations were not enabled to buy Canadian production.

But it was a matter of duty that Canada should aid the common effort without looking for pay for what was done.

Mr. Ilsley said he had been in consultation with censorship and intelligence authorities on the information he might give on the shipments to the United Kingdom under the $1,000,000,000 gift last year. He hoped to make a statement to the House on the shipments tomorrow afternoon.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) said the statement should be in some detail as it appeared as if the enemy knew more about such shipments than did the House members.

Liguori Lacombe said Canada could not afford to continue making such gifts to countries of much greater wealth without bringing on disastrous inflation.

"Instead of giving away this $1,000,000,000 I would ask the Government to bring back to Canada all the gold which was produced by our mines only during the past thirty-five years."

THINKS DEBTORS SHOULD NOT MAKE GIFTS

Only those who paid their debts could afford gifts. Canada had not paid the capital on the debt of the first Great War, had only impoverished itself by paying hundreds of millions in interest.

Speaking before the dinner recess Mr. Roy said the explanation of Canadian policy and attitude in the last few years was a "certain sentimental fear rather than a truly Canadian patriotism." The war was called Canada's war, although there were no Canadian citizens, and Canadians were called British subjects.

He could not understand why there still were appeals to the Privy Council in England, and "the worst of it is that we have no flag, yet we are to walk among the nations after the war with our head high."

Mr. MacInnis, who also spoke before the dinner recess, said he regretted passage of the bill would not be unanimous in the House. He could only conclude that when a member opposed the bill he opposed the war in its entirety.

Canada was not in the war for material advantage but for freedom, and the Dominion must be careful to see that when the military victory was won that freedom was maintained.

He had been amazed to hear J. F. Pouliot (Liberal, Rimouski) suggest in a recent speech that for her contribution to the present war Canada should receive Newfoundland and West Indies territories.

The workers were not asking for such rewards from the war, but were asking for access to the means of life and the abundance they believe can be achieved.

Amateur Performer: "I can pick up a cent with my toes."

Bright Spectator: "That's nothing. My dog can do that with his nose."

Governor Presents Medal to R.C.M.P. Constable

MAKING his first official appearance yesterday at Government House, the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, is seen presenting the Polar Medal to Constable W. J. Parry, R.C.M.P., crew member of Ms. St. Roch, which journeyed through Arctic waters from British Columbia to Nova Scotia.

Wearing his uniform as major-general, His Excellency pinned the medal to the scarlet tunic of Con[illegible]ally with him about the exploit which won him the award. He also had a word with Mrs. Parry and their young son, Hubert, who attended by special invitation.

Others attending the brief ceremony, which took place yesterday morning, were His Honor W. C. Woodward, Lieutenant-Governor; Mrs. Woodward; Sir Shuldham Redfern and Capt. Alan Leveson-Gower, A.D.C., attending His Excellency; Constable H. D. A. Brabant, R.C.M.P., and A. M. D. Fairbairn, secretary to the Lieutenant-Governor.

In introducing Constable Parry to His Excellency, Sir Shuldham read the following citation:

"In June, 1940, the St. Roch sailed from Vancouver with supplies for detachments of the R.C.M.P. in the Arctic. Owing to adverse ice conditions the vessel was frozen in Pasley Bay, about forty miles north of the North Magnetic Pole. After eleven months at Pasley Bay the St. Roch sailed through the Northwest Passage and reached Halifax in October, 1942, being the first vessel ever to complete the passage from west to east. All members of the crew, which included Constable Parry, performed their duties in an exemplary manner under the most trying conditions."

His Excellency and Her Royal Highness arrived from Seattle on Sunday, being met at the C.P.R. wharf by Premier John Hart, Capt. R. W. McMurray, manager of B.C. Coast Steamships, and heads of the armed forces stationed here. They will leave for Vancouver tomorrow at 1:20 p.m.

Crescent Shows Arrive in Town For Week's Run

Pink lemonade in a tall glass, wavy candy on a long stick, the aroma of the ever-present hot dog and the attendant thrills that make the circus the attraction it is, returned to Victoria yesterday, when the Crescent Shows, an all-Canadian concern, opened their one-week stand here.

Blanshard Street, from Caledonia Avenue north to Pembroke Street, has been transformed into "circus row" to house the many new thrilling aerial rides which will nightly provide entertainment for hundreds of Victorians.

Bigger and better than ever before, Crescent Shows, according to Henry Meyerhooff, general manager, has, like all major attractions, "taken to the air." This year they have with them four feature aerial attractions, some of the finest in the Dominion.

Such thrill providers as the "Spitfire Thriller, only one of its kind in the Dominion; "Flying Scooter," "Super Roll-o-Plane" and the "Tilt-a-Whirl" have been brought this time with the show. The large ferris wheel, always popular with children and adults, and the ever-present merry-go-round form important parts of the show equipment.

The bustling midway with its many stalls and games of skill attracted large numbers last night, and the cry of the concessionaries of "there goes another lucky winner" added excitement and color to the general circus picture.

Thursday, children of the Protestant Orphanage will be the guests of Crescent Shows in the afternoon, according to the management. Plans for entertainment of the young people were made by Alderman W. H. Davies in co-operation with Henry Meyerhooff, the general manager.

Crescent Shows will operate daily at their Blanshard Street stand, terminating their stay here at midnight next Saturday. From here they will go to Medicine Hat, making a record carnival jump. Seven carloads of equipment have been unloaded for the show here.

Cats Being Poisoned

L. C. Dawkin, 425 Cecilia Street, reporting the death of a cat, states that several other cats in the neighborhood have been poisoned recently. City police also received from another neighborhood a report of a large black Persian cat which, it was said, had killed a grown hen and four baby chicks.

Japanese Blasted in Many Areas

Allies Hit Twelve Points in Pacific

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, May 11 (Tuesday) (CP).—Two Japanese Zeros have been destroyed and one Spitfire lost in an aerial battle over Millingimbi, east of Darwin, the Allied High Command said today.

The noon communique, describing other operations, said Allied planes hit twelve enemy points northwest and northeast of Australia, destroying three aircraft.

A few Japanese bombs fell harmlessly in Milne Bay.

Medium bombers carried out a successful night raid on the airdrome at Babo, Netherlands New Guinea.

"Three enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground by bombing," the communique said. "The dispersal bays, which were filled with enemy planes, were heavily strafed and at least twenty separate fires, believed to be burning planes, indicated widespread destruction and damage.

HITS SCORED IN OIL TANK AREA

"Hits were scored in an oil tank area and along the waterfront starting fires which were visible eighty miles away.

"Two enemy float planes raided the Mappi post area but failed to do any damage.

Millingimbi, in Northern Australia, again was attacked this time by nine enemy fighters which strafed the outpost settlement, causing slight damage.

"Our intercepting fighters shot three enemy planes out of action and damaged two others, with the loss in the air of one of our own," the communique said.

"Later, three enemy fighters ineffectively attacked an Allied convoy off the coast and were driven away by the ship's anti-aircraft fire, one enemy plane being damaged."

The first attack of the war against Millingimbi was made Sunday by seven Japanese medium bombers. Damage then, too, was slight and casualties few.

Continued ground action was reported in the Mubo area.

"Our ground forces repulsed an early-morning enemy attack on our positions south of Green's Hill," the communique said. "The raid against Milne Bay was made under cover of darkness."

The American wapiti, or elk, has the ears of a mule, gait of a camel and cowlike body.

Sixteen Planes Brought Down in Running Battle

CHUNGKING, May 10 (AP).—American airmen destroyed at least sixteen Japanese planes in a fifteen-minute running battle during the United States raid on Canton Saturday, a communique from Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell's headquarters said today.

The communique said that five other enemy planes probably were destroyed and two were damaged. One United States medium bomber with its crew was reported lost in the action.

The communique said the 14th Air Force attacked the Tien Ho and White Cloud air bases at Canton.

It said that about six enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground.

The Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, and Princess Alice inspected the Victoria Corps of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, on the wide green lawns of Government House Sunday in the first public ceremony following their arrival from Seattle at noon.

The starched whites and dowing navy capes of the nursing sisters, the soft grey of the girl cadets, the glowing blue of the efficient Women's Ambulance Corps, added color to the military picture.

Jarvie, superintendent; the Victoria Nursing Division, led by Mrs. Eva Rogers, superintendent; the Denton Holmes Nursing Division, Miss Harrison, superintendent; Oak Bay Nursing Division, Mrs. W. F. Back the Attack . . . Be a CWAC!

Sergeant Eileen Wicken's duties for the CWAC have taken her throughout the entire province on various recruiting parties. She is wearing her first-year service stripe and during this time has worked in the pay office and on maps, as she is artistically inclined. She is now in the CWAC Recruiting Office. Sergeant Wickens advises girls to consider the CWAC as an opportunity to get away from the humdrum civilian life into the interesting experiences and comradeship of the Army. She says "Joining the CWAC is not a sacrifice—actually the Army girls are well looked after. We have good food, good accommodation, lots of entertainment, and a grand bunch of companions."

Sergeant Wickens has two particular reasons to "back the attack"—one brother is serving overseas in the C.A.A., and another brother is in the R.A.F.

"CWAC girls are proud of their uniform, and the interesting and important work they are doing in Canada's war effort. More girls and women are needed. Full information may be obtained from the CWAC Recruiting Office, 717 Granville Street (old Hotel Vancouver), or any National Selective Service Office."

WEEKLY WARTIME NUTRITION HINTS

Martha Logan, Swift's famed home economist, whose weekly wartime cooking column is a regular feature of this page. Look for these valuable hints each Tuesday

by Martha Logan

Tongue Rolls Florentine

A real party dish which is delicious, thrifty and nutritionally O.K.

This week I have a real party recipe for you, which is at the same time thrifty and tops for nutrition. For 4 people, you need 8 slices of boiled tongue (about ½ lb.), 1 lb. spinach, 1 cup top milk, butter, salt, pepper, flour and horseradish.

The tongue slices should be ⅛ of an inch thick and unbroken. Carefully wash spinach. Remove stems and cook in just-the water that adheres to the leaves. Cook only till the leaves wilt. Drain well, chop fine. Add: 1 tablespoon melted butter or fine flavoured dripping, season. Place a spoonful of spinach on each slice of tongue. Roll and fasten with a wooden pick. Place in greased casserole.

Combine 1 tablespoon flour and 4 tablespoons horseradish with milk and pour over tongue. Cover. Cook in a moderately hot (400°) oven for 20 minutes.

You can serve these delicious tongue rolls directly from the casserole or on a platter with a border of snowy mashed potatoes, garnished with lightly fried parsely.

Tongue and spinach are both high in the list of protective foods and cooked this way they tempt the most difficult appetite. Of course, in addition to this serving of meat, potatoes and one leafy green vegetable—we need, in the same day, another (preferably raw) . . . ½ pint of milk for adults, more than one pint for children . . . tomatoes or citrus fruit or their juices and one other fruit with a whole grain cereal and four to six slices of Canada Approved bread. These can easily be provided at other meals, as can the minimum of three or four eggs a week recommended by Nutrition Services.

Loses Silver Ladles

Harry Currie, of Currie & Gillespies Antique Shop, 1013 Government Street, reported yesterday the loss of four silver soup ladles valued at $30 which, on Saturday, he allowed a woman visitor to "borrow" long enough to see if they matched a set she had. The woman, failing to return, gave a name and address which the police now believe to be fictitious.

"Immortal Sergeant" Held Over in Town

Maureen O'Hara is having her own way again—and she's making the most of it!

In her last three pictures, the lovely titian-haired lass has been the only girl in the featured cast, and now in Twentieth Century-Fox's film version of John Brophy's "Immortal Sergeant," which has been held over at the Dominion Theatre, Henry Fonda is co-starred with Maureen in the film, while others in picture include Thomas Mitchell, Allyn Joslyn, Reginald Gardiner and many more—all men.

Romance is of considerable moment in the action-packed picture, which has the war in North Africa as its background.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES "Pittsburgh," the film now showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, in which Marlene Dietrich, Randolph Scott and John Wayne are co-starred deals melodramatically with the growth of the great Pennsylvania industrial metropolis. Frank Craven, Louise Allbritton and Shemp Howard have supporting roles in the large cast which includes Thomas Gomez, Ludwig Stossel and Samuel S. Hinds. "Pittsburgh" is a Charles K. Feldman Production directed by Lewis Seiler.

RIO THEATRE Locales in Hongkong and Bombay serve as the exotic background for "They Met in Bombay," now showing at the Rio Theatre, with Clark Gable and Rosalind Russell co-starred for the first time. With Gable cast as a gentleman crook and Miss Russell as a lady "Raffles" who pits her wits against his in an effort to steal a priceless jewel, the story takes the romantic couple through action-packed adventures in the Far East. Peter Lorre, Jessie Ralph, Reginald Owen and Matthew Boulton are featured in the strong supporting cast.

YORK THEATRE One of the most hilarious comedy scenes ever filmed is that between Charlie McCarthy and a Canadian black bear in RKO Radio's "Here We Go Again," now showing at the York Theatre. It's a pot-pourri of fun and thrills starring Fibber McGee and Molly and Edgar Bergen and Charlie. The side-splitting action begins when the bear wanders into Charlie's tent and finally climbs into bed with him, while all the time Charlie thinks it is Bergen stumbling around in the dark.

ATLAS THEATRE The musical romance "Balalaika," is now showing at the Atlas Theatre. The picture stars Nelson Eddy and Ilona Massey in a colorful story of Old Russia before, during and after the revolution. Heading the supporting cast are Charlie Ruggles, Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, C. Aubrey Smith and Joyce Compton.

CADET THEATRE Warner Bros. claims an astonishing number of "firsts" for the Technicolor production, "Captains of the Clouds," which is now showing at the Cadet Theatre. "Captains" is the first Technicolor picture for both James Cagney and Brenda Marshall; the first full-length film ever made in the Dominion of Canada; the first picture to show the celebrated Royal Canadian Air Force in action and the first showing American-built planes in war.

CAPITOL THEATRE "Random Harvest," the picturization of James Hilton's latest best-selling novel of the same name is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. It stars Ronald Colman and Greer Garson in a tender and suspenseful story about a soldier amnesia victim of the last war and a warm-hearted show girl, who fall in love, have a beautiful romance, are separated by fate, and then find each other again under the most exciting of circumstances.

Auxiliary Repeats "Gay Nineties Revue"

A crowded house greeted the artist members of the Evening Branch of the Women's Auxiliary to St. Saviour's Church when they recently repeated by request the programme "The Gay Nineties," concluding with the "Family Album," the characters of which were portrayed in tabloid. Mrs. Mark Sinden, as Grandma Meredith, described the subjects as they appeared. All costumes worn were styles of the nineties. Mrs. Frank Thrman as "Bertie" excelled in comic singing and whistling solos; Mrs. Hughes, as Daisy Mae, and Mrs. Doris Traynor, as Leatrice Barefacts, the society news columnist of the day, were most amusing.

The following artists also contributed to the entertainment of the evening: Miss Joan Amison, Misses Grace and Jean Adams, Francis Kerry, Mrs. Chappel, Mrs. Charlton, Rev. A. Lord and Messrs. Eastick and Spouse. Accompanists were Mrs. F. Thomas, Mrs. Carstairs and Mrs. Amison.

In a leading industrial plant in the Eastern region of Britain more than seven tons of coal are being saved each week through "staggered" lunch hours.

St. Joseph's L.A.

A well-attended business meeting was held by St. Joseph's Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary recently, the president, Mrs. L. Jones, in the chair. A satisfactory financial statement was given by Mrs. B. Reid. Mrs. Dickinson, convener of sewing, reported 877 sponges and 244 articles finished. The president thanked the members for their efforts on behalf of Sister Superior. The annual bursary donated by the Ladies' Auxiliary was voted. A silver tea will be held at the home of Mrs. P. I. Doherty, 3235 Weald Road, Uplands, on Wednesday, May 19, from 3 to 6 o'clock, under the convenership of Mrs. E. Hornsby. A programme will be given by Mrs. T. H. Johns and Mrs. K. Green.

East Group of W.A.

The East Group of the W.A. to Oak Bay United Church met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. J. Graham, Brighton Avenue. A busy afternoon was spent sewing layettes for British babies; the finished articles are sent to England through the war service unit of the church. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. Before adjourning, tentative plans were made for the annual rose tea to be held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. P. R. O. Dredge, St. Patrick Street.

North Group of W.A.

Mrs. E. S. Ord, convener, presided at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the North Group of the W.A. to Oak Bay United Church, held at the home of Mrs. J. M. L. Alexander, Hampshire Road. Final plans were made for the luncheon to be held on Thursday at 1 o'clock in the church Sunday school room. There will be a speaker from the Women's Regional Advisory Council. During the afternoon the members worked at quilts for British Bundles. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Gerry.

W.B.A. Review

The May business meeting of the Chemainus W.B.A. Review was held recently in the recreation hall. Mrs. C. Savory welcomed Mrs. Laura LeGallais, provincial health supervisor, who spent the week-end in Chemainus where she held a clinic at the home of Mrs. H. English, and fulfilled forty-six appointments. It was decided by vote to again purchase from the fraternal funds another Victory Bond. One local member was reported sick, and word was received from Vermilion, Alta., that Miss E. Payne, who is taking her basic training there, had undergone an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Whitestein, of China Creek, was welcomed as a visitor, after several years' absence from the review. Mrs. Gallais gave an inspiring talk on "Fraternity." Wartime refreshments were served.

B. and P. Women's Club

The members of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club held a dinner meeting last evening at the clubrooms, Miss Edith Parsell in the chair. After a short business session a general debate was held on the subject of Canada's future foreign policy. A questionnaire had been received from the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs for the purpose of ascertaining public opinion on this question. With Miss B. Crowther in the chair the following members presented varied and interesting viewpoints on the subject: Miss M. Clay, Miss E. Parsell, Mrs. C. Lord, Mrs. M. Hall, Miss L. Parfitt, Miss M. Cameron and Miss M. Beveridge. The general opinion of the club was recorded by Mrs. K. Farquharson. The next meeting will be held on Monday, May 31, instead of May 24.

L.A. to United Church

The Ladies' Aid to Ganges United Church meeting was held recently at Ganges Inn, with Mrs. J. Dewar presiding. The treasurer's report showed $14.49 on hand. Satisfactory reports were heard from the Dorcas secretary and hospital visitor. Gifts of flowers and letter of sympathy were sent to a recently bereaved member. The president reported that the new honor roll, with names inscribed of those who had joined the various services, was now complete and ready to be framed prior to hanging in the church. Mrs. Stanley Wagg spoke of a household of six, who through fire had lost their possessions and their home, and expressed her willingness to receive anything in the way of clothing or financial assistance to dispatch to them. The organization will start a traveling market basket, from which each member will make a purchase, deposit the cash and another article to be sold and send the basket on its journey again. The proceeds derived will go towards the funds of the Ladies' Aid. The next meeting will be held on June 3 at Ganges Inn. Tea hostesses were Mrs. Wagg and Mrs. E. Parsons.

Chemainus W.B.A.

The Chemainus W.B.A. Junior Review, No. 3, recently entertained mothers, members and friends following the short business meeting. Review juniors are to provide children's clothing for a family of five, who lost their home and all their belongings at Galiano Island. During the meeting Mrs. LeGallais, provincial health supervisor, and Mrs. C. Savory, president of No. 19 Review, were formally welcomed by junior president, Chrissie Symes. Later several drills, depicting the letters W.B.A., the cross, and other symbols were cleverly carried out by the little ones under the able direction of junior supervisor, Mrs. P. Erickson, and guard captain Mrs. J. Cook, with Mrs. J. Syme pianist. Mrs. LeGallais spoke to the children on the value of health and daily health habits, and congratulated them on their review and floor work. Tiny silver-bound Victorian bouquets were presented to Mrs. LeGallais, and also to Mrs. H. English, W.B.A. deputy, each guest later receiving a tea favor of miniature Victorian bouquets of Spring flowers. Honoring Mother's Day, the entire review paid tribute in sign and song. Later the juniors ushered their guests into the refreshment room, where the tables were decorated with tulips and the review colors. Ice cream and cake were served to the juniors, the adults enjoying a wartime tea.

Victoria C.W.L.

About fifty members of Victoria Subdivision of the C.W.L. and their friends attended the delightfully served communion breakfast at Loretto Hall on Sunday morning following the 9:30 o'clock Mass at the Cathedral, when special sermons were preached by Rev. Father Geoffrey Penfold, diocesan chaplain of the C.W.L., at all the morning services on Mother's Day. Mrs. P. C. Shaw, newly-elected president of the Victoria subdivision, presided at the breakfast and welcomed the guests. Hon. Capt. Rev. Father Michael Dwyer, S.F.M., the guest speaker, in his stirring address urged his audience to uphold the dignity of Christian motherhood and to keep the place of women in this war-torn world as fine and as exalted as Christianity had ordained it should be. Miss Madeline Clay, national convener of C.W.L. scholarship, thanked the speaker on behalf of those present. Mrs. Blair Reid, diocesan president, also spoke briefly on behalf of the league. It was recalled that Father Dwyer before his ordination to the priesthood, in the order of the Scarboro Foreign Missions, was a member of the Christian Brothers of Ireland and in that capacity had taught for some time in Victoria on the staff of St. Louis College. He was particularly welcomed by the mothers in his former pupils. Bishop John C. Cody was also present and congratulated Mrs. Shaw on her election to the presidency and thanked Mrs. A. Cosnden for her splendid work during the past year. Mrs. J. D. Kissinger invited all present to attend the membership tea to be held on May 20 at her home on Fairfield Road.

Weddings

LEWALL—OATWAY

The marriage was solemnized by Ven. Archdeacon Nunns, in St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon at 1:30, between Muriel Ruth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Oatway, 3716 Quadra Street, and Sgt. Guy James Lewall, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Greenhouse, Sechelt, B.C. The organist was in attendance and pastel shaded flowers made a charming setting for the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father and wore a full-skirted floor-length gown of pink sheer with bishop sleeves and a matching chapel veil held in place with fresh pink rosebuds and lily of the valley. She carried a bouquet of the same flowers. Mrs. D. M. Gazeley, Vancouver, was matron of honor, in a pretty frock of pale blue sheer and a matching Juliet cap, who carried a bouquet of darker pink carnations and valley lilies. Pte. D. M. Gazeley, R.C.O.C., was groomsman, and acting as ushers were Cpl. D. Hopkins, R.C.A.F., and Mr. T. McLaren. The reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Darters, 837 Oliver Street, where parents of the young couple assisted in welcoming the guests. The buffet refreshment table was centred with the cake, flanked by vases of pink and white carnations and pink tapers. Mr. C. Leeson gave the toast. For a honeymoon on the Mainland the bride wore a two-piece blue silk dress with maroon accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Sergeant and Mrs. Lewall will make their home in Vancouver.

COLLAR CUFFS ARMPIT
SEE HOW DAZZLING THESE TOUGH SPOTS COME

MERE WORDS CAN'T TELL YOU the difference between an ordinary wash . . . and clothes washed the Sunlight way. You have to see the gleaming brightness and sweet-smelling freshness yourself. For Sunlight does far more than remove surface dirt. A touch of Sunlight on collars, cuffs, edges, puts a film of soap right on the dirt. Then the rich Sunlight lather loosens even deeply imbedded grit and grease.
NO WONDER CLOTHES COME BRIGHTER! Not a streaky bright. Not "Half-Washed". But spotlessly radiant. Yes! Even grimy work clothes win admiring glances. Try Sunlight this washday—and see what its "extra-soapiness" means to you!

Sees Chance for Canada to Be Pivot of World Aerial Routes

Lt. Col. George A. Drew Urges Dominion to Make Sure Now That It Assumes Proper Place

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—Organization of an all-British commercial air transport system, with Canada as "the logical centre of Empire air activity," was urged today by Lieut.-Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Progressive Conservative leader.

In an address prepared for delivery to a joint meeting of Ottawa service clubs, Col. Drew said Canada's place in postwar aviation could best be assured as part of an Empire system which would have a strong competitive position.

The organizations of such a world-girdling corporation would present no difficulty, he said. Each nation within the Empire could retain its own domestic air routes and operation of Trans-Canada Air Lines, the Canadian Government-owned system, would not be disturbed in any way.

AT CROSSROADS OF WORLD ROUTES

"By the accident of geography Canada is at the crossroads of the most important air routes of the world, and Canada has the opportunity to become one of the greatest carriers by air of passengers and freight, if we recognize the opportunities which lie before us and plan now to take advantage of those opportunities," he said.

New airfields opened for war training purposes, along with those opened before the war, provided Canada with the framework of one of the most complete domestic air systems in the world. From the point of view of trained personnel Canada had the best position of any country and many persons now in war aviation were performing tasks little different from those required in civil aviation.

GREATEST AIR ROUTES IN WORLD

"Working together we (Canada and the other British nations) can maintain the greatest air routes in the world. The British nations in this field are complementary, not competitive. And they possess bases which will permit round-the-world flying, landing only on British territory."

"If we attempt to work alone we will sink to relative unimportance as a carrier of international air commerce. That is our choice: To become the centre of a great world-girdling British commercial system or to sink back into the unimportant role of a satellite air power using aircraft, instruments and supplies made in some other country," he added.

"Because the civil and military aspects of this problem are inseparable it is not too much to say that upon our decision may rest the future of the Empire. The time for decision is now. When peace comes it will in all probability be too late," warned.

Island Shelled

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—The Tokio radio, in a broadcast recorded today by The Associated Press, reported today that an Allied submarine had shelled the vicinity of Horobetsu village on the southeastern coast of Hokkaido Island, the second largest of the string of islands which constitute the Japanese homeland.

The broadcast quoted an announcement from Japanese northern army headquarters as saying the shells had landed in a field and caused no casualties or damage.

The nationality of the submarine was not given. United States submarines, however, several times have been reported in operation off the Japanese coast.

The Tokio radio said the attack took place just before midnight yesterday.

Steamer Burns

SOREL, Que., May 10 (CP).—The 187-ton Canadian Government steamer Vercheres was destroyed at her dock on Sunday by fire that originated in the galley.

Attached to the St. Lawrence Ship Channel Branch, the 104-foot ship was gutted despite the efforts of firemen from Sorel and from the Government ship Frontenac.

Built in Toronto in 1901, the steel, single-screw ship was formerly the Algoma. She was moored at Lanctot Basin at the time of the fire.

Winnipeg Has Aerial Hopes

WINNIPEG, May 10 (CP).—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said in an interview here today that every week makes it more clear that postwar air transportation will develop on a huge scale.

Aviation and civic authorities see Winnipeg as a key point in postwar aerial travel, and commenting on efforts being made to assure this, Mr. Bracken said:

"Keep on trying. There is no reason why Winnipeg shouldn't get ready."

The Winnipeg-St. James Airport Commission has a postwar programme under consideration calling for enlargement of Stevenson Field, the city's chief airport.

British Destroyer Pakenham Is Lost

LONDON, May 10 (CP).—The Admiralty today announced the loss of the destroyer Pakenham.

She was commanded by Cmdr. Basil Jones, D.S.C., and was a new craft, built and commissioned since the beginning of the war. No details on her size or armament have been released.

While operating in the Central Mediterranean in January the Pakenham, in company with six other destroyers, took part in a series of successful operations lasting over three days in which thirteen enemy vessels were destroyed.

Free Transportation To Cowichan Bay for Logging Firm Workers

VANCOUVER, May 10 (CP).—Employees of Hillcrest Logging Co., of Cowichan Bay, will be provided with free transportation to and from work until living accommodation is provided for them at the logging camps, Nigel Morgan, executive board officer of the International Wood Workers of America, said today.

Previously the company had charged the men for transportation from their living quarters to operations at Natachie Lake, Morgan stated. Some of the men traveled as much as twenty-five miles.

The new arrangement followed a meeting last week between a union negotiating committee and the management.

For the first time national working rules have been accepted by employers and workers in the furniture manufacturing industry in Britain.

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—F. L. Jeckell, of Victoria and Toronto, formerly director-general of the industry and sub-contract co-ordination branch in the Munitions Department which organized the "bits and pieces" programme in Canadian war industry, has resigned from the department and will return to private business, it was announced today.

The branch, formerly headed by Mr. Jeckell, was merged with the office of Production Co-ordinator H. J. Carmichael several months ago, as a service unit for all production branches of the department.

SINK ENEMY SHIP

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—A Netherlands submarine has sunk a 7,500-ton Japanese supply ship in the Strait of Malacca, between the Malay Peninsula and the Island of Sumatra, a Netherlands Admiralty communique said today.

Charles Ayres of Southwick, Sussex, has completed a double anniversary, his eighty-third birthday and his seventieth year as a cyclist. A former police chief, he still cycles, gardens and golfs.

We Want Freedom From

WANT... FEAR.. and FORCE

THERE'S nothing old-fashioned about this war.

The weapons are all new-fashioned.

The methods of attack and defence are new-fashioned.

And so are our war aims.

Nations used to be content with victory.

But, this time, we shall not be satisfied with victory.

We shall not be content with peace.

We shall be satisfied only with freedom . . . freedom from Want, Fear and Force . . . freedom from every kind of oppression.

THIS is a people's war.

This is a war of the world's free peoples against aggression and evil dictatorship which seek to force the will of the few on the lives of the many.

The free peoples of the world want security and the right to think and act and plan their own lives in their own way.

They are tired of being pushed around.

They want to be left alone — to live in peace with their neighbours.

They want to regain those things which free people everywhere hold dear.

IN Canada we are fighting and working and saving to secure for ourselves and others a world that will be really free.

Our future security is everybody's business.

Security has to be paid for.

It must come out of our own pockets.

You can protect your future and the future of your loved ones, by putting every cent you can save into the 4th Victory Loan.

NEW improved LUX cuts down runs OVER 50%

Amazing s-t-r-a-i-n tests show runs in RAYONS cut in half

ONE of the most famous laboratories on this continent has completed tests of different washing methods.

Stockings were repeatedly washed three ways—some rubbed with cake soap, some washed with a strong soap, some washed with new improved Lux. Then they were tested on a machine which pulled and strained them the way stockings get pulled and strained in ordinary everyday wear.

These tests proved that washing with Lux cuts down runs over 50%! Tests proved similar results with cotton stockings, too!

Luxing saved stocking elasticity—that is why the threads didn't pop so easily into runs under strain. Join the Lux Daily Dippers and safeguard your precious stockings, too. Dip them in Lux every night. Dry rayons thoroughly.

Eastern Postwar Picture Better

Building Inspector Gives Annual Report

In his annual report filed at the City Hall yesterday, Duncan K. Kennedy, building inspector, pointed out extensive war plant construction in Eastern Canada will leave Maritime Provinces in a much more favorable position for postwar industrial rehabilitation than British Columbia.

Mr. Kennedy stated in part:

"Building permit value totals of our city were well sustained in relation to values of other similarly populated cities in other parts of Canada. General construction carried out here was for residential buildings, and a very small percentage of all building was for war industrial plants.

"This was aplicable to all British Columbia cities. In Eastern Canada war plant construction was predominately much greater in similar inverse ratio to residential construction. Undoubtedly this will produce further hurdles for British Columbia in any re-establishment or postwar planning to meet Eastern competition of general manufacturing production, where every advantage is now and will be taken to make full use of the hundreds of new war production factories already established by design for conversion into peacetime production units. British Columbia cities will be confined to present primary industries invariably established before the war.

"The city has insufficient accommodation to provide proper housing for war workers' families and others. Existing materials shortages and wartime restrictions show scant signs of alleviation of the condition," Mr. Kennedy stated.

Honors for Brides-Elect

A Scottish motif proved effective in the decorations for the miscellaneous shower which Mrs. E. E. Peden and her sister-in-law, Miss Eleanor Peden, of Vancouver, gave on Sunday evening in honor of Miss Lillian Stokes, who is being married shortly. The party was held at Mrs. Peden's home, 2748 Thompson Avenue, and those present were members of the "Knit Wits" Club, which meets regularly to make war comforts. The pretty and useful gifts were presented in a round box covered with a kilted Stuart tartan and topped with a tam o' shanter. The bride-elect also received a corsage bouquet of carnations and heather. A buffet supper was served at the close of the evening from a table prettily arranged with a miniature Highland lass surrounded by heather as its centrepiece. The guests were Mrs. Alex Main, Mrs. Harry King, Mrs. Clyde Nicol, Mrs. E. Warburton, Mrs. C. Steele, Mrs. D. Miles, Mrs. L. Emerson, Mrs. J. Matthews, Miss Bonna Macmurchie, Miss Adna Wallace and Miss Lois Macmurchie.

Miss Margaret Evans, whose marriage will shortly take place, was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Miss Florence Jasper, 1286 Holloway Street. The bride-elect received a corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas and lily of the valley, and was presented with many gifts, hidden inside a large model of a battleship. The rooms were prettily decorated with vases of narcissi and tulips. Music by Mrs. H. Evans and games were enjoyed. Mrs. M. Lamont and Miss Gladys Schroeder presided at the supper table, assisted by Mrs. A. Hodson, Miss Leah Noble, Miss Margaret Himmelreich and Miss Sheila Whittemore. Those present were Mrs. M. Lamont, Mrs. H. Evans, Mrs. A. Hodson, Mrs. G. White, Mrs. E. Hume, Mrs. E. Harris, Mrs. D. Foreman, Mrs. A. Knowles, Mrs. J. Jasper, Mrs. J. Strong, and Misses Jean Hamilton, Margaret Playne, Betty Holmes, Nora Hunt, Gladys Schroeder, Leah Noble, Sheila Whittemore, Margaret McCracken, Blanche Clark, Jean Taylor, Patsy Rice, Margaret Himmelreich, Irene Smallwood, Lea Tremblay, Vera De Wylde, Nancy Chater, Gladys Huick, Lillian Tanner, Marie Semotuck and Florence Jasper.

Injured in Accident

Walter Moir, 158 Robertson Street, was treated by Dr. A. D. Bechtel for shock and concussion at the Royal Jubilee Hospital early Sunday morning sustained when his automobile struck a concrete wall at Memorial Crescent and Dallas Road. He said his vision was obscured when a baby carriage tied to the front bumper shook loose.

Mrs. Dolly Graham, Uplands, a passenger in the car, was treated by Dr. W. D. Higgs for bruises and cut on her right knee.

Little Stories for Bedtime

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

PETER TRIES AGAIN

Now wouldn't you suppose that Peter Rabbit would have had quite enough of looking for Winsome Bluebird's home after the narrow escape he had from Black Pussy? Most folks would have. But Peter is different from most folks in that he has such a big bump of curiosity. Once Peter becomes curious about a thing he cannot get it out of his head until his curiosity has been satisfied. When Farmer Brown's boy took Peter out of the old stone wall on the edge of the Old Orchard and started him across the Green Meadows for the dear old Brier Patch, there was only one thought in Peter's head and that was to get home as quickly as he could. So he ran as only Peter can run, lipperty-lipperty-lip, across the Green Meadows to the dear old Brier Patch. But once there, safe under the friendly bramble-bushes, Peter remembered what it was that had been the cause of all his fright and trouble, and that he hadn't found out what he started to find out.

"But where is your home?" persisted Peter.

"Never mind," said Peter's common sense. "You'll live just as long if you don't know where Winsome Bluebird's new home is. It isn't any business of yours anyway."

"But I want to know," protested Peter's curiosity.

"What good will it do you to know?" asked his common sense.

Think as he would, Peter couldn't think of any good that it would do him. So he tried to forget all about Winsome Bluebird and his new home. But he couldn't. No, sir, he couldn't forget. You see, every once in a while the sweet whistle of Winsome Bluebird would come floating over the dear old Brier Patch and every time Peter heard it his curiosity about Winsome's home became greater than ever.

"The very idea, that I shouldn't know where an old friend like Winsome Bluebird lives!" exclaimed Peter, as he sat just outside the edge of the dear Old Brier Patch staring across to the Old Orchard. It was very early in the morning, very early, indeed. Redtail the Hawk was not in sight and Reddy and Granny Fox had gone over to the Old Pasture, for Peter had seen them go. Black Pussy was not likely to be out at this hour. Anyway, she couldn't catch him if he were on the watch, and that he certainly would be if he went up to the Old Orchard again. Sweet and soft and clear the whistle of Winsome Bluebird floated over to Peter. It seemed to him as if it said: "Don't you wish you knew? Don't you wish you knew?"

Peter stood it just as long as he could. Then he scampered straight for the Old Orchard to look again for the home of Winsome Bluebird. Just before he reached the Old Orchard he saw Winsome fly down, pick up a worm and fly to the top of a fence post. Peter headed straight there.

"Oh, Winsome," said he, as he reached the post on which Winsome was sitting, "I was on my way to look for you in the Old Orchard. I went to call on you the other day and found that you are not living in your old home. Please tell me where you are living, Winsome, so that I may call once in a while to pass the time of day."

There was a sparkle of mischief in Winsome's eyes as he replied: "I'm always glad to have a call from you, Peter. Any time you feel like a visit just come over here. You will find me here or hereabouts."

"But where is your home?" persisted Peter.

"Ah!" replied Winsome, "that is a secret. It is not far from here. So, as I said before, when you want to make a call you will be pretty sure to find me somewhere about here. You know, I'm very fond of sitting on fence posts."

This was quite true. Peter had noticed that many times. Now the post where Winsome was sitting was only a little way out from the Old Orchard. "That means," thought Peter, "that the new home is in one of the trees on the very edge of the Old Orchard, for Winsome is not one to go far from home." So with a very wise look Peter said good-bye and hopped over to the nearest trees in the Old Orchard. There he found a place where he could keep quite out of sight, and there he hid to watch for Winsome Bluebird to visit his new home. And Peter thought himself very clever and smart.

Next Story: Peter Waits in Vain.

Nurses Attend Church Parade

Arranged as a prelude to the National Nurses' Week which opened yesterday about 100 representatives of the nursing profession attended the impressive church parade at the Metropolitan United Church on Sunday evening. Included in the smart turnout were nursing sisters in their army and navy service uniforms, nurses from the public health organizations, members of the staff and student nurses from the Royal Jubilee Hospital, several from St. Joseph's Hospital and a number of private duty nurses.

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, D.D., conducted the service, and was assisted by Rev. F. Comley, Anglican chaplain of the Royal Jubilee Hospital who read the lesson.

In his sermon, Mr. Whitehouse emphasized the need for idealism in every profession, to save it from the more sordid side of life. The making of a life rather than the mere making of a living should be the ideal, and it was only through disinterestedness that it could be lifted from professionalism into the higher realms of humanitarianism, and rescued from the god of efficiency, he continued. To this aim it was essential that nurses keep before them the spiritual aspect at which to aim.

AT ST. ANDREW'S CATHEDRAL

About 150 student and graduate nurses, together with nursing sisters of St. Joseph's and Mount St. Mary Hospitals, attended the evening service at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Bishop John V. Cody in his sermon pointed out the purpose of Nurses' Week, and expressed the opinion that while the idea of lowering the basic requirements from an academic standpoint seemed sensible in the present dearth of nurses, he hoped there would be no lessening of the standard of devotedness required from a nurse. If such were to happen, nursing would drop from the high standards of a profession with the ideals of service to God and man to the dead level of a business occupation, with personal profits as its motive.

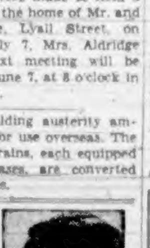
Commenting on the nurses' badge, with its cross symbol, the bishop reminded the congregation that this cross symbolized the need for self-sacrifice on the part of nurses in the fulfilment of their arduous duties.

ESQUIMALT COMMUNITY CLUB

Esquimalt Community Club met recently in the Esquimalt United Church Hall, with the president, Mrs. R. McVie, in the chair. The treasurer's report showed a satisfactory balance. Mr. McVie reported that from the concert held in April, $31.25 had been handed to the treasurer. Owing to the Governor-General's visit, the May queen celebrations have been postponed to Wednesday, May 19, at 2:30 p.m. in the Esquimalt Memorial Park. An interesting programme has been arranged. Mrs. Petrie, Dunsmuir Road, kindly offered her home for a social evening, Monday, May 24. Members are asked to bring the books on the bedspread. The club voted $50 for the purchase of a Victory Loan bond. Arrangements were made to hold a garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. McVie, Lyall Street, on Wednesday, July 7, Mrs. Aldridge convening. Next meeting will be held Monday, June 7, at 8 o'clock in the church hall.

Britain is building austerity ambulance trains for use overseas. The khaki-painted trains, each equipped to carry 300 cases, are converted railway carriages.

Wheezing in the Chest Points to Bronchitis



The principal symptom of bronchitis is a dry, harsh, hacking cough accompanied by a rapid wheezing and tightness across the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning. This phlegm is at first of a light colour, but as the trouble progresses becomes yellowish or greenish.

You may find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, relieve the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and aid nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, about 3 times as much, 60c, at all drug counters.

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

IN THE MAIL BAG

Dear Sir,—As treasurer of the Connaught Seamen's Institute I wish to express to the local baseball association the sincere thanks and appreciation of the Ladies' Guild for setting aside last Saturday to help our Institute. It is indeed generous of your association. Each month we have between 400 and 500 boys registered at the Institute, both merchant navy and the Royal Navy, and we make them all welcome. Last year we gave eighty-four dances and parties for the merchant boys as well as supplying them with more than 800 articles of warm woollies, and we hope to continue the good work. Again we wish to thank all the fans most sincerely for their generosity and to assure you that every penny will be wisely spent by us for the benefit of our brave boys who so willingly go through so much for our safety.

MRS. F. MACKENZIE, Treasurer, Connaught Seamen's Institute.

Comment: The baseball association worked hard to make the opening games of the season a big success so that the institute could benefit from them financially. Despite anything but warm weather the fans turned out and I understand that your organization will receive a cheque from the baseballers this week and a tidy sum is forthcoming. They did their best but the weatherman wasn't much help and we couldn't do anything about that.

MARS
STILL TAKES OUR BICYCLE MATERIAL

BLOOD-THIRSTY, steel-fisted Mars, God-of-War, continues to thrust his grasping mauled fist into our steel bins and to toss our bicycle materials into the maw of war.

Guess we'll have to let him do as he pleases yet until we "finish the job."

We are, however, able to make a few bicycles. Our war-time models lack the glamorous color and bright appearance of C.C.M. peace-time models but they are durable, comfortable, easy-running bicycles nevertheless.

If you are in war work and could use a bicycle to travel to and from your "battle station" it is possible one of our C.C.M. dealers may be able to procure one for you. Or, if you have an inactive bicycle in your household, get it into active service by selling it to your C.C.M. dealer, who will see that a war worker or other qualified purchaser gets it.

Bicycle Purchase Application form may be filled in at any Bicycle Dealer's store.

Have you energy for the EXTRA things?

She packs overseas boxes AFTER WORKING ALL DAY

Elsie is a dentist's nurse, keeps house for her Air Force husband, spends a night every week at the workrooms packing boxes for the forces overseas. "I couldn't do the extra things," she says, "if I didn't keep fit. But I don't let myself get feeling depressed and headachy or out of sorts. Even after a hard day at the office, I have lots of energy to spend on my housework and my war work."

"And being a dentist's nurse is no snap, either," Elsie says. "Handling patients in the waiting room, helping the doctor, keeping accounts, amounts to a lot of hard work, though not much real exercise, so I'm careful about my habits.

"But I don't take nasty doses. I get 'bulk' in my diet by eating Kellogg's Bran Flakes for breakfast. They're so crisp and delicious, I enjoy them every morning."

If you want to keep fit for work and spare time too, take these steps to health: 1. To get well, see your doctor. 2. To keep well, watch your habits. Make sure elimination is complete. Gently laxative, Kellogg's Bran Flakes With Other Parts Of Wheat help supply valuable minerals and proteins too. And they're so crisp and appetizing you'll want to eat them every morning! Ask your grocer for the golden-yellow package—either the regular or the new Family package. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

KEEP FIT WITH KELLOGG'S every day in the year!

Germans at Home Dazed By the News

BERNE, May 10 (AP).—The bulk of the Germans at home are "walking around as though hit on the head" at the news of the Allied triumph in North Africa, a Berlin dispatch said tonight.

At the same time it was disclosed that the Allied successes were a signal for increased resistance in France against the occupation troops.

The Berne Der Bund declared that the American fighting ability, which "had not been held highly by Berlin," came as a shock to all Axis military leaders.

In Berlin today, one correspondent said, many were asking:

"How could it have happened—what will be the fate of the Africa Corps?"

The German press, the writer said, had kept up until the last minute "hopes which were not to be conformed."

Dispatches to neutral newspapers told of a series of incidents touched off in France by the Allied victory.

A frontier dispatch to The Gazette de Lausanne said two Italian officers were wounded at Nice in retaliation for establishment of a curfew under which 2,000 persons in the city had been fined 3,000,000 francs.

At Lyon a German soldier was killed and several others were wounded. A curfew there closed all theatres, cinemas and public meeting places.

At Clermont-Ferrand a German major was found dead during the early morning, a bullet in his head, some reports said.

A dispatch to The Tribune de Geneve from Lyon said French railroads had announced, effective May 17, that a demarcation line would separate the Italian occupied zone from the remainder of France.

Canada's Honor Roll

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—The Canadian (Active) Army, in its 303rd overseas casualty list of the war, containing twenty-one names, tonight named seven men previously reported missing and now reported killed in action. Defence Headquarters said they fought in the Dieppe raid.

One man was listed as now officially reported prisoner of war. Defence Headquarters said he fought with the Canadians at Hongkong.

Seven men were reported to have died; two were listed as dangerously ill, and four as seriously ill. Defence Headquarters said these casualties were not connected with any specific action.

The Dieppe names brought the unofficial total of casualties suffered in that action to 526 died, 268 missing, 570 wounded and 1,926 prisoners of war.

Following is the list:

WHEAT FOR GREECE

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP).—Trade Minister MacKinnon plans to fly to Saint John, N.B., next Thursday for a ceremony in connection with the sending to Greece of a supply ship laden with wheat, it was learned here tonight.

In the last week in March 39,000,000 shell eggs were distributed in Britain.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 11 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date will be from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods will be from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

An irresistible desire to meddle in the affairs of other people is going to cause many discordant conditions on May 11 and it may involve many persons in a great deal of trouble. High-pressure sales methods should be avoided, regardless of whether they are employed to sell merchandise or to promote personal interests. A decided trend toward conservatism may be reflected in many persons' processes of reasoning, words and actions. Married and engaged couples, and those whose heartstrings no longer are at loose ends, had better realize that there can be no compromise when it comes to doing right or wrong, especially if it affects the happiness of any of them.

If you are a woman and May 11 is your birthday, always strive to have many friends but extremely few confidants. It is a wise adage that prescribes "never tell all you know," especially when it comes to discussing future prospects or plans. It will pay you to learn to mask your feelings, particularly if they are apt to betray your personal likes or dislikes in so far as outsiders are concerned. As a designer, artist, business operator, instructress, secretary, public stenographer, restaurant, specialty shop operator or office manager, musician, singer, actress, sales agent, trained nurse, or as a result of some practical demonstration of your patriotism, your work may win you high praise and an enviable income. If you put into your married life as much as you hope to get out of it there is little chance that you will be disappointed when, in years to come, you review the past.

The child born on May 11 generally develops a winning personality and a graciousness of manner that will help him to attain an unusual degree of popularity. The Taurus child is apt to display a remarkable amount of sagaciousness in his daily contacts with people and situations. A future filled with social, business or professional achievement appears to be ahead for the average Taurus youngster.

If you are a man and May 11 is your natal day, always remember that if you really put your heart and soul into accomplishing something the chances are you will be able to do so, but if you go about it in a half-hearted way your results are apt to be disappointing. You are capable of being a man of determination and energy, with a forceful personality, or one thoroughly indifferent as to what the future has in store for you—it is entirely up to you which type you will be. As a lawyer, doctor, actor, singer, musician, artist, author, journalist, sales executive, broker, or as one of Canada's fighting men, you have everything for which to live, for Fame and Fortune seem ready to back your efforts.

GLIDING CLUB

The Victoria and Island Gliding and Soaring Club will hold a lecture and work meeting for members tonight at 8 o'clock at 1407 Broad Street. The directors will meet in the classroom at 9 o'clock. A new class will commence next Tuesday.

Don't Let This Be On YOUR CONSCIENCE

MANY TIMES in the early days of this war, battles were lost and lives were sacrificed because there was "Too Little Too Late". No words could be more tragic. They must not be heard now.

Canada's armed forces are fighting our battles. Shall we at home fail to give them every possible support? They left their jobs, their homes, their friends for the discomforts and dangers which are ever present, prepared if need be to make the supreme sacrifice. Are we going to let them down? Are we going to increase the dangers . . . multiply the hazards . . . prolong the struggle because of "Too Little Too Late"?

Our big job right now is to put over this fourth Victory Loan. The need is greater than ever. It's unthinkable that we should falter or fail.

A lot of money to raise? Sure it is. But it can be done. It must be done. Have you gone the limit? Or, could you stretch the budget by a greater effort; by real self denial, by postponing the purchase of something you would like now but could wait until the time when you can buy with a clear conscience?

Canada needs every dollar you can lend.

There is still time for you to do your full part. Maybe it's your own son, or your neighbor's son, brother or husband who is depending on you. Don't let them down at this critical time.

If you have not already bought . . . or if you find you can buy another . . . Phone Local Headquarters — a Salesman will call

That Body of Yours

PREVENTING RHEUMATIC FEVER AND HEART DISEASE

For many years what are called the salicylates have been the regular or routine treatment for rheumatism. The salicylate most used is acetylsalicylic acid, which gets different names from various drug manufacturers in United States and Great Britain. What has been known by some physicians but has not been put into use to any extent, is that acetylsalicylic acid used when attacks of sore throat occur, may actually prevent attacks of rheumatism. The "preventive" treatment of rheumatism used by some physicians is to have the patient move to a dry, warm climate, or by use of large and continued doses of sulfanilamide.

Now, every patient cannot move to a dry, warm climate, and maintaining a high level of sulfanilamide is not advisable in some cases. In discussing the natural drawbacks of these two methods of preventing attacks of rheumatism, Drs. A. F. Coburn and L. V. Moore, in the Journal of Pediatrics (children's diseases), state that the acetylsalicylic is safe and effective and should be given a trial at the beginning of any infection of nose and throat. A study of a group of rheumatic children exposed to the common nose and throat and chest infections is reported.

A daily dose of 60 to 90 grains of acetylsalicylic acid, depending on the size of the patient, was given at first sign of sore throat (pharyngitis) where examination of organisms in the throat were found under the microscope to be the kind that cause rheumatism. This treatment was continued for one month.

Forty-seven young rheumatic patients received this "preventive" treatment and only one developed rheumatic fever. Of 139 rheumatic patients who were not given this treatment, fifty-seven developed rheumatic fever and eighty-two did not. These figures tell their own story; only one of the forty-seven who took the treatment developed rheumatic fever, that is about 2 per cent, and of the 139 who did not take this treatment, fifty-seven developed rheumatic fever, that is more than 40 per cent.

It should be remembered that this treatment is not suggested for all forms of nose, throat, and chest infection, but the "special" kind of infection the organisms of which cause rheumatic fever.

If sore throats can be treated early and rheumatic fever prevented, it means that many cases of dangerous heart disease will be prevented and there will be fewer "heart cripples" in the world.

How It Started—

By JEAN NEWTON

"AND A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM"

In Isaiah xi, 6, it is written:

"The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead them."

Now, if you know your Bible, it is not always wise to quote it, especially not in the army.

There was a new detachment that was put in charge of a green lieutenant. The young officer looked helpless, acted inexperienced. And when he first appeared before his company, there were many audible comments made about his obvious ineptness, capped by a voice which boomed from the rear, "And a little child shall lead them." And everybody laughed right out loud.

The lieutenant did not seem to have heard anything. He finished the day's business according to routine. The next morning, the following notice appeared on the company bulletin board:

"Order of the day: Twenty-five-mile hike with full pack. And a little child shall lead them . . . on a damned big horse."

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—Utilities and scattered industrials that stand to benefit by a possibly shortened war responded to the Axis Tunisian disaster by a brisk run-up in today's stock market, but rails, aircrafts and [illegible] the losing column.

Power and light company issues were all over ticker tape at the start on blocks of 1,000 to 20,000 shares and turnover for the first hour of 803,000 shares was the largest since May, 1940. Gains ranged from fractions to a point or more for favorites, many of which touched three-year peaks. Volume dwindled later and a final sell-off in the carriers and aviations cut quotations elsewhere at the close.

Aside from their peacetime rating, "penny" stocks in the utility division were benefitted by revised estimates of their break-up value under disintegration proceedings yet to be carried out in compliance with the "death sentence."

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was up .2 of a point at 50.9, which equaled the highest mark since April 9, 1940, established last Thursday. The fifteen-rail composite was off .1 at 26.2. Breadth of the market was exemplified by the fact 947 individual issues were traded. Of these, 478 were up, 258 down and 211 unchanged. Transfers of 2,515,490 shares compared with 2,149,611 Friday. It was the fifteenth two-million-share day of the year to date, last week accounting for five.

Shareholders Approve Sale of Mining Claim

VANCOUVER, May 10 (CP).—Sale of Beaver Silver claim on Wallace Mountain to Highland Bell has been approved by shareholders of Beaver Silver Mines, Ltd. Registered shareholders will receive a liquidating dividend of 3 cents a share.

The sum of $48,000 has been mentioned as sale price.

Incorporated in 1926, Beaver Silver Mines, Ltd., had its head office in Kelowna. Authorized capital was 2,000,000 shares, which were later reduced on the basis of one new share for five old.

Block System to Produce Salvage

The block system of collecting salvage, in which block captains will be appointed in different districts to supervise the scheme, will be tried out here, if a proposal made by A. H. Pease, salvage director, to local A.R.P. and P.-T.A. officials is adopted.

In Winnipeg, Mr. Pease told members of the Victoria West P.-T.A. last night, the block system has been so successful that it is being carried out in many United States cities.

Mr. Pease pointed out that "to get old papers, rubber, fats, rags and other inflammable material removed from the houses of your district is in the best interests of preparedness against incendiaries."

Inspector A. H. Bishop, A.R.P. director, has offered his assistance, and district wardens will be asked to have block leaders appointed to carry out the drive. Women in each block will be asked to co-operate, as it is felt that housewives are best able to produce results.

A committee was appointed by the Victoria West P.-T.A. to further the plan, which will be begun in the Victoria West district.

Charged With Theft

Anton Klatz, a soldier, pleaded guilty yesterday in the city police court to a charge of stealing a tin of tomato juice and a box of cigarettes from the automobile of Robert B. Pendergast on Sunday afternoon. He also admitted retaining a pair of rubbers taken from the car of Horatio E. Hallwright.

Constables Samuel McKenzie and Robert Davidson stated they saw the accused trying the doors of parked cars, and recovered the stolen articles in Klatz' haversack. He was remanded until this morning for sentence.

MARINE EAGLE LAUNCHED

CHESTER, Pa., May 10 (AP).—The Marine Eagle, first United States ship built completely by negroes, was launched here today. The Eagle was built for the Maritime Commission in a yard manned entirely by negroes. Mrs. Rachael Stevenson, a negress, employed by the firm for twenty-two years, christened the ship and received a $1,000 War Bond.

STORES IN WAR PLANTS

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—Some department stores, in a move that tends to meet one of the major excuses given for absenteeism, have set up branches in war plants. Others were said to be planning similar steps to take their goods to workers who otherwise might take a day off to shop.

Padres, doctors and sappers have been taught to jump with "paratroops" so that complete British military units can land at one time.

3. The business of the corporation shall be that of a mutual life insurance corporation, with all of the rights, privileges and powers conferred upon such corporations by the general laws of this State, and such as may from time to time be conferred by law upon such corporations. The kinds of insurance to be transacted by the corporation are the making of insurance upon the lives or health of persons and every insurance appertaining thereto, the granting, purchasing and disposing of annuities, and the making of insurance against bodily injury or death by accident, as authorized by paragraphs "c" and "d" of Section 17:17-1 of the Revised Statutes of New Jersey.

4. The corporation shall continue to be a mutual life insurance corporation.

5. The duration of the life of the corporation shall be unlimited.

6. The Board of Directors shall exercise all of the corporate powers of the corporation except as otherwise provided by law and shall manage all of the property, business and affairs of the corporation.

7. The Board of Directors shall consist of sixteen (16) persons holding office or chosen as hereinafter provided, and such additional persons as may be appointed pursuant to law. Each director heretofore elected and holding office as such at the time of the adoption of this amended charter by the policyholders of the corporation shall continue to hold office until his successor has been elected and has qualified. After the adoption of this amended charter by the policyholders of the corporation, the first election of directors shall be held on the first Tuesday of the ninth calendar month following the calendar month in which this amended charter shall have become effective pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (c) of Section 1 of Chapter 14 of the Laws of New Jersey of 1943. At such first election four (4) directors shall be elected for the term of four (4) years each to succeed those directors whose terms of office under the provisions of the corporation's charter in effect prior to the adoption of this amended charter would have expired in January 1944. Thereafter four (4) directors shall be elected annually for the term of four (4) years each at an election to be held on the first Tuesday of the same calendar month as that in which the first mentioned election shall be held. At the second such annual election four (4) directors shall be elected for the term of four (4) years each to succeed those directors whose terms of office under the provisions of the corporation's charter in effect prior to the adoption of this amended charter would have expired in January 1945. At the third such annual election four (4) directors shall be elected for the term of four (4) years each to succeed those directors whose terms of office under the provisions of the corporation's charter in effect prior to the adoption of this amended charter would have expired in January 1946. At the fourth such annual election four (4) directors shall be elected for the term of four (4) years each to succeed those directors whose terms of office under the provisions of the corporation's charter in effect prior to the adoption of this amended charter would have expired in January 1947.

8. The method of electing directors shall be as follows:

(a) At least seven months before the day fixed for any election of directors, the Board of Directors shall by a vote of a majority of its number nominate a candidate for each office of director to be filled at such next ensuing election and shall file with the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance a certificate of such nominations giving the name, occupation and address of each nominee. Qualified voters of the corporation as hereinafter defined to a number of not less than one-tenth of one per centum (1/10%) of the number of policies of the corporation in force as set forth in the next preceding annual statement of the corporation filed with the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance may nominate a candidate for each office of director to be filled at such next ensuing election by filing with the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance at least five months before the day fixed for such election a certificate, which may be in any number of counterpart originals, signed and acknowledged by each of them, giving his address and the number of his policy and giving the name, occupation and address of each candidate so nominated, together with a statement signed by each such candidate to the effect that he will accept if elected, and by serving upon the secretary of the corporation at least five months before the day fixed for such election a duplicate original of such certificate and of such statement.

(b) In case of the death, withdrawal or incapacity of any candidate nominated by the Board of Directors prior to election, the Board of Directors shall by a vote of a majority of its number nominate a candidate in his place by filing prior to the day fixed for the election a certificate similar to that required for an original nomination by the Board of Directors, and in case of the death, withdrawal or incapacity of any candidate nominated by others prior to election, such other persons or a majority of them may nominate a candidate in his place by filing and serving prior to the day fixed for the election duplicate certificates and statements similar to those required for an original nomination by such persons.

(c) The qualified voters of the corporation shall consist of every policyholder who is twenty-one years of age or more and whose policy has been in force for at least one year. For the purposes of this section the term "policyholder" shall mean (1) the person insured under an individual policy of life insurance issued upon the application of such person, (2) the person who effectuates any such policy upon the life of another, (3) the person to whom any annuity or pure endowment is presently or prospectively payable by the terms of an individual annuity or pure endowment contract except where the policy or contract declares some other person to be the owner thereof, in which case such owner shall be deemed to be the policyholder, (4) the employer under a policy of group life or other form of group insurance issued to such employer covering his employees and (5) the employer under a group annuity contract issued to such employer and covering his employees. No other person shall be deemed to be a "policyholder" for the purposes of this section.

(d) Each qualified voter of the corporation at such election shall be entitled to cast one vote in person or by proxy. The president, or, in his absence, a vice-president of the corporation, shall preside at the election and the secretary, or, in his absence, an assistant secretary of the corporation, shall make and keep a record of the proceedings. Voting shall be by ballot and tellers to receive and count the votes and to determine the validity thereof shall be elected by a head vote of policyholders and their proxies present at the meeting. Ballots shall be prepared and furnished by the corporation to all voters at the election. No ballot shall be counted unless it shall set forth the number of the voter's policy and be signed by him or by his proxy, and no ballot shall be counted if cast for any person other than one nominated as herein provided. The polls shall remain open in no case for less than four hours.

(e) In case any nomination shall have been made by others than by the Board of Directors, the corporation shall cause notice of the time and place of the election and of the several nominations of candidates to be published at least four times at intervals of not less than one week, the first publication to be not more than sixty days and the last publication not less than fifteen days prior to such election in at least three newspapers published in each state of the United States and in each province of the Dominion of Canada in which the corporation is authorized to do business, one of such publications in each state or province to be, whenever possible, in a newspaper published in the capital city of each such state or province. Such notice shall contain the names of the persons nominated by the Board of Directors and by others at the time of commencement of publication and the death, withdrawal or incapacity of any such nominee or the nomination of any person in his stead before or after the completion of publication shall not invalidate such notice, nor shall the omission of any publication herein prescribed invalidate such notice of the election to which it relates; provided, the corporation shall have made diligent effort to cause such publication to be made.

(f) All ballots voted shall be received by the tellers subject to verification and ascertainment of the validity thereof and of the qualification of the voters, and, in the case of ballots voted by proxy, the respective proxy instruments shall be filed with the tellers. Immediately upon the closing of the polls the tellers shall proceed to canvass the votes. The canvass shall proceed from day to day until completed. All ballots and proxy instruments received by the tellers shall immediately upon the completion of the canvass be placed in sealed packages and preserved by them for at least one year from the date of the election. The person receiving the highest number of votes for each office of director to be filled shall be elected for a full term. In case two or more persons shall receive the same number of votes for the same office, the tellers shall decide the election by lot.

(g) At the conclusion of the canvass the tellers shall report in writing to the secretary of the corporation the result thereof and he shall thereupon make a certificate, duly sworn to, setting forth the result of the election as shown by such report and shall file the same with the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance.

9. Any vacancy in the Board of Directors may be filled by a majority vote of the Board for the unexpired term to which such vacancy relates.

10. The Board of Directors shall have full power from time to time to make, alter, amend and rescind by-laws, rules and regulations for the conduct of the business and affairs of the corporation in conformity with the provisions of this amended charter, and to employ such officers and agents as the Board of Directors in its discretion may determine for the conduct of such business and affairs.
